New Orleans Arrest In Plot On Kennedy

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Clay L. Shaw, wealthy retired director of the International Trade Mart, has been booked on a charge of "conspiracy to commit murder" in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's first arrest in the Kennedy assassination investigation.

"There will be more arrests, a considerable number of them," said Garrison, who has been conducting a probe of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy for the past five months.

Shaw, 54, a decorated Army major in World War II, was released on $10,000 bond after his arrest Wednesday night. His luxurious French Quarter home was searched for nearly three hours by Garrison's agents.

The dozen men who made the search carried away five cardboard boxes filled with various items, including books and a gun in a canvas case — a rifle or shotgun.

Opposes Warren Report
Shaw is ruggedly handsome and silver-haired. He brushed past newsmen without a word when he was released from central lockup after being booked, fingerprinted and mugged.

He was arrested in Garrison's office, where he had appeared for questioning, in response to subpoena.

Garrison has vowed to prove that a conspiracy conceived in New Orleans "culminated in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy."

Man's Problems
TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Seeking ways to better understand and deal with the problems of modern man, clergymen from Michigan and surrounding states will meet at Traverse City Aug. 7-11 to hear theologians and scientists. The interfaith seminar will be held at Northwestern Michigan College.

Committee's Plea To Seat Powell Spurned In Ouster

Red Guns Hit U.S. Cruiser; Damage Minor

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese shore batteries scored two hits on the U.S. guided missile cruiser Canberra during a ship-to-ship duel Wednesday, the U.S. command announced today, but the hits caused only light damage.

The American command said the shore batteries were silenced by fire from the Canberra's 8-inch guns and the 5-inch guns of two accompanying destroyers.

The two enemy rounds made only one half-inch hole in the Canberra's deck and did minor damage to some nearby life rafts, the Navy said. No American casualties were reported.

The three U.S. Navy ships were attacking a Communist battery of 57mm guns 15 miles north of Dong Hoi, the major port in the southern part of North Vietnam. U.S. shells from three other Navy ships came within one mile of Dong Hoi, the American command reported.

The Canberra is one of the U.S. Navy's two heavy cruisers which can fire supercavitating guided missiles, but the missiles are designed to combat aircraft, not ground targets. The 17,500-ton Canberra is named for the Australian cruiser which was sunk with the Vincennes and the Quincy in the first battle of Savo Island on Aug. 9, 1942.

South of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam, Viet Cong mortars kept up their attack on the big U.S. guns which began firing into the southern part of North Vietnam last week, but again no damage to the 175mm American cannon was reported.

Treasury Shaves Cost Of Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury is saving money on the cost of printing it.

The cost per bill of more than two billion printed in last fiscal year was less than nine-tenths of a cent, fifteen years ago, it was almost exactly a penny per note.

The cost is the same, officials said, whether grinding out singles or $10,000 bills (you'll recognize this one, next time one comes your way, by Salomon P. Chase's picture).

Advances in printing technique, the Treasury said, have pushed the cost of producing 1,000 bills of any denomination to $3.30 during the present fiscal year and to $3.11 the year after, officials said.

Hoffa Ordered To Start Prison Term On Tuesday

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Frank W. Wilson has ordered James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, to appear here Tuesday morning to begin serving an eight-year prison term for jury tampering.

Less than an hour before Wilson announced his decision Wednesday Hoffa designated Frank E. Fitzsimmons, general vice president of the union since last July, as his successor.

Wilson's move came after he denied Hoffa's request for continuance of his $75,000 bail pending disposition of a new trial motion. Attorneys for Hoffa, who took over the 1.8-million-member labor organization after Dave Beck, long time Teamsters president, was handed a 15-year sentence in 1963 for stealing union funds, said Wilson's order "more than likely" would be appealed.

However, when asked if the

Speck Trial News Curbs Are Relaxed

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Newsmen had a slightly freer hand today in covering the trial of Richard Speck, the 25-year-old drifter accused of murdering eight student nurses.

The trial judge, Herbert C. Paschen, relaxed his news-coverage restrictions Wednesday, thus complying with an order issued earlier in the day by the Illinois Supreme Court.

Speck's trial, which began Feb. 20, is still in its jury-selection phase and 167 persons have been questioned for possible service.

The first panel of four jurors — two men and two women — was accepted only Wednesday. Two women also were tentatively approved as a start toward completing the second panel.

Judge Paschen's new rules now permit newsmen to obtain transcripts of the proceedings at any time and allow reporting of all events which occur in open court. However, the names of the prospective jurors may not be published until they are either excused or sworn and sequestered.

Prior to the Supreme Court's order, newsmen were not permitted to use transcripts during jury selection. They also were banned from reporting questions and answers in the questioning of prospective jurors.

On the panel accepted Wednesday are a housewife with a teen-age son, a retired contractor, a divorced mother of two young children and an ex-Marine who now is a factory supervisor.

Under oath, all four said they have no fixed opinion against Speck. They also said they are not opposed to the death penalty. The prosecution is asking for capital punishment for Speck.

Congressman May Be Back After Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has barred Adam Clayton Powell, its most controversial and flamboyant figure — but may have trouble making the ban stick.

While the Harlem preacher relaxed at his Bahamian fishing retreat at Elmini, his attorneys termed Wednesday's action of the House "unconstitutional." They raised the threat of a federal court suit to overturn it.

The House itself may have to deal with the matter again, perhaps within two months. A special election will be held to fill Powell's seat and there is every likelihood he again will be elected to fill the post he has held 22 years.

"It will come back to haunt the House," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, the venerable New York Democrat, after the House recommended 22 to 202 the recommendation of his select committee to seat the Negro Democrat with a stiff censure, a $40,000 assessment and the loss of all seniority.

Leaders For Seating
The action also rejected leadership from both parties, who had backed the committee action, and led to the final ouster 307 to 116.

"If I were representing Adam Clayton Powell," Celler told reporters, "I'd take the case to court right away. I think he's got a good case."

And Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., the West Virginia Republican who fought alongside Celler for adoption of the censure proposal, referred reporters to his statement midway through the five-hour debate: "If we turn

Michigan Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — All seven Michigan Democratic representatives voted with the minority in the 248-176 roll-call vote to exclude Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, (D-N.Y.), from his seat in Congress.

Earlier, all seven had voted for the move to censure Powell, which was supported by the leadership of both parties but defeated, 229-202. On both votes, the Republicans from Michigan were split.

The following six Republicans voted against exclusion: Gerald R. Ford, William S. Brownfield, Garry Brown, James Harvey, Donald W. Ruppe Jr. and Philip W. Ruppe.

Republicans for censure: Brownfield, Brown, Cedarburg, Gerald Ford, Harvey, Ruppe, Ruppe and Vander-Jagt.

turn out, his constituency will turn him back with an even greater majority."

The galleries were packed but orderly. Although Powell, 58, was absent, his lawyers were there. They listened intently but left when the outcome became clear.

Voting On Decorum
Later, they issued a terse statement through Powell's office which said: "Within a few days an announcement will be made by or on behalf of Mr. Powell as to any future course of action."

The House floor was hushed during most of the debate, although at one point the hum of conversation rose so much that presiding Rep. Hugh L. Carey, D-N.Y., reminded members: "Gentlemen, we're voting on a matter involving decorum in the House — there is no decorum in the House."

Civil rights leaders expressed anger at the House action. And in Powell's Harlem district, citizens were indignant and said they'd vote for Powell again if he runs in the special election.

Out Of Congress
Although his future was uncertain, the action meant that as of 6:55 p.m. Wednesday, Adam Clayton Powell ceased to be either a member or a member-elect of the 90th Congress. His $30,000 annual salary will stop and he will have to vacate his plush Rayburn Office Building suite, though he will get a few days to pack.

The action came just 51 days

'Lock Your Car' Is Drive Slogan

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit joined in today with a national "lock your car" campaign aimed at reducing the number of car thefts. Police called citizens' attention to the drive and Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh issued a proclamation in its support. The National Automobile Theft Bureau is sponsor.

Claim New Evidence
Wilson still has made no ruling on the pending new trial motion — Hoffa's fourth — which was filed here Tuesday, one day after the U.S. Supreme Court refused to reconsider its rejection last Dec. 12 of a Hoffa appeal.

The pending motion alleges "new evidence" that the Justice Department used wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping during the 1964 trial here, and is supported by 20 affidavits from persons who say they partici-

Reagan Tops Romney

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, tabbed in some polls as the leading Republican contender for the presidency in 1968, gained only a standoff with Republican leaders at a $1-million fund-raising dinner.

Romney, a top prospect for the 1968 presidential nomination, was outshone on the platform at Wednesday night's GOP gala performance by Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Reagan, a prospective California favorite son candidate, also for Romney's potential bid from the nomination, easily won the applause meter contest with his appearance.

Not far from behind with the audience at the $800-a-plate dinner was Barry Goldwater, the 1964 presidential nominee, who apparently is still personally popular with the Republicans despite his disastrous defeat by President Johnson.

This was a measure of Goldwater's chagrin at Romney's refusal to support him in the 1968 race.

While the Michigan governor continued to talk in vague terms of future positions on Vietnam, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was his old, aggressive self on that issue.

Looked on as Romney's chief rival for the GOP nomination, Nixon said in a televised interview that increased military pressure was the way of "escalating the peace."

In an informal meeting with newsmen at the home of Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., Romney provided only nonanswers to questions on national issues.

Just back from a tour of western states, Romney told the banquet audience, "I've just found how the west was won: blood, sweat and avoiding press conferences."

He talked on economic subjects, saying Johnson was running the national economy "from the vest pocket of one man."

But Romney didn't waste his day in Washington. His engaging personality and stinging criticism of Johnson's administration made him new friends. His own personal assessment of the day's ventures into national politics was it had been "very useful."

Planner Gives Report

Two additional planning reports — both preliminary — were received recently by the Escanaba Planning Commission from Harland Bartholomew & Associates, consultants retained by the city in the development of a comprehensive plan for the community.

John Dulek, the city's engineer-planner, said that the Planning Commission will meet with representatives of the consulting firm on the fourth Thursday of each month "to keep current on our planning schedule."

Thompson A. Dyke, associate partner of Harland Bartholomew & Associates, Chicago, met with the Planning Commission and submitted preliminary reports covering a "Comprehensive Plan" and a "Proposed Zoning Regulations and Subdivision Regulations."

In submitting the reports to the Planning Commission, Dyke advised that it represents "the completion of the preliminary reports and upon review, discussion and consideration by the City Planning Commission and City Council, a final report will be published containing modifications and adjustments."

Dyke further urged the Commission to "promptly review the report, and upon finding it acceptable adapt both reports so that the publication of the final report will represent the wishes and desires of the people of Escanaba as approved by you."

After reviewing the adequacy and inadequacies of the major public buildings in Escanaba, the report gives a proposed public building plan.

"Future growth will require an expansion of public building space needs. New buildings will be needed to replace existing out-moded structures and to provide additional space for future augmented public services."

The major proposals of the plan include:

POST OFFICE — Additional space is needed and there are plans "to build a new building

Meet Tonight

The Escanaba Planning Commission scheduled a brief special meeting at 7 p. m. today at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Chairman Matt Smith requested the meeting for the purpose of organizing a more concentrated effort in reviewing the three reports submitted by Harland Bartholomew & Associates.

of about 45,000 square feet within the next five years. The site has not been selected but it is recommended that the new facility be constructed within the Central Business District, possibly within the proposed urban renewal project. The other federal offices could occupy the vacated space in the present Post Office building."

STATE BUILDING — The State of Michigan has purchased a part of the block south of the present office building for future expansion, and probably will acquire the rest of the block as well.

"Immediate plans and specifications include an addition of a one-million dollar power plant and laboratory facility. Part of the site could be used for parking and held for additional expansion in the future."

The State is also considering the purchase of the property which it now leases as a warehouse and store for the Michigan Liquor Commission.

CITY HALL — "The block bounded by 5th St., 4th St., 1st Ave. N. and Ludington St. is recommended as one location for a new city hall.

Criteria in selecting a site should be central location, sufficient size, close to the Court House and State Building for convenience in the use of public records, and sufficient area for the location at the site of the city police department.

"Such a city hall at this location would complete the elements of a governmental center in conjunction with other city, county, and state buildings, which would be unique to the Upper Peninsula."

FIRE STATIONS — Fire Station No. 1 (at the City Hall) will eventually have to be rebuilt. Consideration should be given to a new facility in the area of 10th St. south of Ludington St.

"Because of numerous rail crossings, Fire Station No. 2 will have to be maintained in North Escanaba."

"The Michigan Inspection Bureau in their 1965 report recommended that an additional company be established in the southern part of the city as this section develops. This would best serve the developing west side as well."

PUBLIC LIBRARY — The present Carnegie Library building is overcrowded and inadequate. A new library is recommended.

"The public buildings plan suggests a site at 5th St. N. with sufficient area to provide for 30,000 square feet of floor space on one floor and parking for 20 to 25 cars. The proposed building would include meeting rooms and adult education facilities."

"The vacated library building could then be used by the Delta County Historical Museum, which needs much more space for display. Another possible use of the old library could be as an administration building and superintendent's office for the Escanaba Area Public Schools."

HARBOR FACILITIES — "The U.S. Coast Guard Station at Escanaba has tentative expansion plans set for about 1975. This includes additional living facilities, larger administration offices and a large boat house. This expansion should be tied in with the proposed land fill project on Ludington Park."

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT — "The existing Escanaba Airport will be expanded according to a master plan now being developed." The eventual expansion will have a net total of 920 acres, the additional space required for jet airline service and relocation of the north-south runway to the west.

AREA PUBLIC SCHOOLS — The current building program in Escanaba consists of the construction of three new elementary schools, two additions to existing schools and abandonment of two older buildings.

Jefferson School will be abandoned with the completion of the building program; the Washington School building will be replaced by a new one in the current building program; a new Franklin School is being built; and a South Side School is under construction on 18th Ave. S.

The planners recommend that a site be purchased for a school west of S. 23rd St., the building to be constructed when justified by residential growth.

The Junior and Senior High School buildings are in good condition and adequate for present needs.

BAY DE NOC COMMUNITY COLLEGE — "At present, three general alternatives are open to the college:

"1 - Remain at the present location and acquire additional property for expansion.
"2 - Move to another location within the city where a large tract of land for a campus can be acquired.
"3 - Move out of the city, possibly to a location midway between Gladstone and Escanaba."

"In the event that Bay de Noc College decides on a new site, and would select a downtown location, the Central Business District plan provides for a possible site in close proximity to the proposed governmental center and the park on Bay de Noc, for which the college is named."

Additional aspects of the report, covering Parks and Recreation, Utilities, Housing, Urban Renewal, and Capital Improvements, will be published in future.

Miss Delta Contest Invites Candidates

The Escanaba Jaycees are completing plans for their annual Miss Delta County contest, which is to be held April 22, it was announced today by Al Paparic, chairman. The contest is a stepping stone to the "Miss America" contest held each year in Atlantic City.

Winner of the local contest will be entered as a contestant in the Miss Michigan Pageant to be held in Muskegon in June.

Last year's winner of the Miss Delta County title was Miss Cherie Maskart of Gladstone.

According to Paparic, the contest this year will be the biggest ever put on by the Jaycees. Because of an overcrowded auditorium last year, the pageant is being moved from the Area High School to the Wm. Oliver Auditorium. The contestants will compete in the following events: evening gowns, swim suit, and talent.

Girls who are interested in becoming a candidate for the pageant are asked to attend the Coke party to be held this evening at 7:30 in the cafeteria of Bay de Noc College. The 1965 queen, Miss Sandra Macie, and the 1966 queen, Miss Cherie Maskart, will be present to tell the girls about the pageant and to answer any questions.

An applicant must be at least

Sgt. George Hokenson arrived from Viet Nam, where he had spent the past eleven months, to spend a furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holz and family. Sgt. Hokenson has been enlisted for another three years and volunteered to serve the first six months in Vietnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Red Nickerson and son Allen of Lansing spent the weekend at their home here and also visited friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Zonker of Newberry visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Humphrey Sr., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Getty of Manistique, visited friends here Sunday.

Powers-Spalding
The Powers-Spalding Snowmobile Club enjoyed an outing Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. Milton Poquette's camp, north of Spalding. About 15 families participated in the outing which was followed by a potluck supper.

Nursing Home Shortage Critical, Board Learns

The critical shortage of nursing home facilities in Delta County which is severely taxing the capacity of St. Francis Hospital with elderly patients came to the attention of the Board of Supervisors Wednesday night.

What the Board can do about it, however, is another matter.

Joseph Laskar, associate administrator of St. Francis Hospital, told the Board that the hospital is nearly always jammed to capacity because of "medicare" patients.

Many of these patients, he said, would be able to leave the hospital if other care facilities were available, clearing hospital beds for other patients.

According to the Delta-Memnonie District Health Dept., every nursing home in the area is full. So are most of the county's three-bed homes.

Dr. Mary Cretens estimates a need for 100 more nursing beds.

Laskar told the Board that a patient census Tuesday, exclusive of obstetric and pediatric departments, revealed the hospital had 58 "medicare" patients, 30 of whom no longer needed hospitalization but were still patients because they had no other place to go.

He said 15 of these patients no longer needed any special care, but had no homes or families to return to. Seven of the patients were awaiting nursing home beds to open up and seven more needed nursing home care. Another patient would have been able to go home if there was "home care" service available.

Because of the crowded conditions existing, Laskar said, the hospital has had to establish a "priority" waiting list for other medical and surgical patients before they can be admitted. In an emergency situation, the hospital will never refuse anyone, but it could happen that a person might be placed in a temporary bed in a corridor until a room opened up, Laskar said.

According to the Health Dept., Delta County has five licensed nursing homes plus 21 unlicensed three-bed homes. The three-bed homes are required to have a state permit to accept patients, but most of them still fail to meet strict federal medicare regulations.

The rated capacities of the licensed nursing homes are: Delta Nursing Home, 47; Pine Haven Nursing Home, 24; Sloan Nursing Home, 14; Oja Home, 12, and the Bishop Noa Home, 33.

Charles Sedenquist, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, pointed out, however, that the Bishop Noa Home serves the entire Upper Peninsula and the figure of 53 beds in Delta County is misleading.

Sedenquist said that because of this figure, Delta County priority for federal Hill-Burton funds to construct a county medicare facility is low. He said because of this the county has little chance of obtaining matching funds in the near future.

What's the solution? There apparently is no simple answer.

Dr. Cretens suggested that the area could use more three-bed homes or more private, licensed nursing homes. The other alternatives are establishment of a "home care" service where nurses would visit elderly persons in their homes on a regular basis to provide medical-type services; for families to take care of their own elderly members; or, perhaps, to screen Pinecrest patients more thoroughly, using Pinecrest as a nursing home rather than a rest home facility.

She indicated that there are Pinecrest residents now who do not need nursing home services available and could move elsewhere to make better use of the facility.

The County Board referred the entire problem to its Planning Committee for study.

Studebaker Has Profitable 1966

SOUTH BEND, Ind., (AP) — Out of automaking for its first full year, Studebaker Corp. Monday reported a 1966 net profit of $16.4 million, equal to $5.80 a share, compared with $10.7 million, or $3.72 per share, in 1965.

The profit gain was 54 percent and Studebaker directors ordered a 25-cent quarterly dividend payable March 31 to stockholders of record March 15. After a long history of automaking losses, the dividend will be Studebaker's second since it resumed payments in the final quarter of 1966.

Studebaker now is a highly diversified company operating in many fields.

Daley Machine Chicago Winner

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's regular Democratic organization retained lopsided control of the City Council Tuesday and Mayor Richard Daley emerged from an uncontested primary as a clear favorite to win a fourth term.

Daley, 64, first elected mayor in 1955, bettered his own prediction by more than 20,000 as he picked up 421,278 Democratic primary votes.

His opponent, industrialist John Waser, 52, who seeks to be Chicago's first Republican mayor in 40 years, received 73,092 primary votes against minimal opposition.

Republicans blamed the rugged winter, one of the worst in the city's history, for slowing the campaign against one of the nation's most effective Democratic machines. They promised a fight to the deadline for the April 4 mayoral election.

Two factors — white backlash and militant Negro revolt — failed to produce enough votes to seriously jar the Daley organization's control of the 50-seat City Council.

Organization Democrats were winners in 36 wards, Republicans in 4 and independents in 2. Runoff elections were forced in 8 wards.

Action On Planning

Escanaba's City Council is in the process of aiding development of the city's retailing district. It is, by apparently everyone's judgment, the area of the community which tops the priority list for civic attention. There are several reasons for this:

1. Escanaba's retailing district is the most famed in the Upper Peninsula and, while it's hard for us to be objective in this, it is probably the best.
2. It is a major element of the city's economy.
3. It has not had the invigoration of new investment and development in the past decade which Escanaba's industry, schools, churches, local government, and recreational facilities have had.
4. It has come under new challenges which require that it compete more aggressively for the retail business of the area.
5. The general economy of the area has been growing and warrants an investment in improvement to get more of the future's business.

When Escanaba joined the national effort at urban renewal, which is a fancy term for staying healthy, it learned that this is a difficult and troubled activity. Urban renewal has stubbed its toe in many big cities, which cleared large slum areas and pushed their poor residents out into other areas and did not quickly rehabilitate the cleared areas because reinvestment was too expensive and difficult.

But the need was there! America's old cities were decaying at their cores and rather than renew them on their existing sites the trend was to flee them and build anew in the suburbs. In the big cities Negroes filled the core areas thus abandoned, complicating an already difficult civic problem by adding the bad factors of racism and ghetto.

Fortunately, this wasn't the problem of Escanaba. It started on urban renewal many years ago because of the foresight of its city council and civic leaders and rehabilitated the deteriorated end of Ludington St. as a government plaza. This predated the federal program and was done with local means and local initiative. Its results have given Escanaba one of its greatest sources of pride.

The current project to vitalize the shopping district by making it more efficient and attractive grew out of the city's program of community-wide planning for development. It was given first spot in the program and the city's planners concentrated on it. Ample parking for shoppers' automobiles had been a need identified by merchants for years and several efforts had been made to provide it.

It has been difficult to achieve a consensus of the retailers and the city government, but the city has moved to vastly expand downtown parking and there are encouraging indications that the elements are moving toward an agreement. There has been a tacit acknowledgement of the propriety of a partnership of the city and the owners of commercial properties in the development area and this is a basic need. From here there must be movement toward an agreement on the proportions of the cost which each will bear.

City Council and the city administration merit commendation for starting an action program. This is a community need and it bears good promise of rewarding both the private enterprisers who increase their investment in the shopping district and the city, which will benefit from an enlarged economy.

The renewal project has historic implications for the community. It is a challenge to use the resources of Escanaba — private and public — for its betterment in a new and locally unprecedented way.

The community has shown a fine ability to move on other fronts in modernization. It has, in fact, done well in every other area but this one. Its housing has been commendably upgraded. It is rehousing its educational system. Industrial plant improvements go on unendingly. Street and utility developments are unending. Hotel and motel improvements progress. Where local government is assigned the task of growth it does it well, and so, too, does private enterprise.

It is when the need for cooperative effort between the private and public sectors of the economy is faced that we pause in indecision. Happily, even this problem appears to be in the process of solution in the new parking project and there is every reason to believe that it will mark the beginning of a new era of progress in Downtown Escanaba.

BOOK
Escanaba is headquarters of the Hiawatha National Forest, one of three national forests in Michigan, so we believe that many persons in and around Escanaba will be interested in "Blazing Forest Trails," a book we have just written.

It is not a cold, factual recitation of activities of the U. S. Forest Service. It tells of the activities all right, but it is a lively account by Charles D. Simpson, of his life in that organization. It is enlivened throughout by anecdotes.

Instead of describing fire fighting, for example, it tells of experiences in fighting fires; it tells how Ranger Ed Pulaski, in the big North Idaho fire of 1910 got 40 firefighters into a tunnel to escape a rampaging fire surrounding them. Madly, he was killed by smoke and heat they attempted to break out of make a try for safety.

Pulaski knew it was certain death for them. He stood in the entrance with the flames behind him, pointed his gun at the panicking men, and said he'd kill any man who tried to crowd by him. He saved the lives of all but five who suffocated. Seventy-two men were killed in the fire that Aug. 20 on the Couder d'Alene Forest.

Homesteading in the forest, early day logging, search and rescue of those lost in the woods, hunting, wildlife, grazing — all are told through such intensely interesting personal experiences.

Most of the episodes are from the Rocky Mountains and Pacific Northwest but both authors were born in the Lake States. Simpson started his forestry work as a fire guard in 1911 on the Superior Forest in Minnesota. He saw early day horse logging in Minnesota. These experiences are drawn upon in the book. Many unusual pictures illustrate the book. One chapter tells how fortunate persons are who live near a forest and why. We imagine you, in Escanaba, would subscribe to that idea.

The Hiawatha in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan with its lakes and streams, its nearly 800,000 acres of acquired land and its heavy recreational use is much different from the wild public domain forests of the West. Yet like all other national forests it is managed on a multiple use basis for wood, water, forage, wildlife and recreation. Only the priorities vary from forest to forest.

Surgery Has Role In Treating Of Arthritis

DR. GLEN W. McDONALD
U.S. Public Health Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — Surgery plays an important part in the treatment of arthritis. Generally, surgery has been resorted to when the disease is far advanced, and when crippling and deformity have set in. Now, however, surgical techniques are being used very early in the disease.

As a last resort, surgeons will sometimes deliberately fuse a joint if there is no other way to control pain. Function is lost in that joint, but the patient does get relief.

Where function is extremely limited, surgeons have had varying degrees of success in inserting artificial devices to take the place of normal joint components. In a different approach, the surgeon cuts through bone and ends up with something which looks nothing like a normal joint but which performs the same functions.

In a technique now being evaluated, surgeons feel they may be getting at the root of the disease. The first part of the joint to be inflamed is the membrane lining the synovium. As this membrane is not essential for the functioning of the joint, some surgeons are taking out the synovium early in the disease — sometimes at the first positive diagnosis of arthritis.

There is no quick and easy treatment for rheumatoid arthritis. When cortisone and ACTH were first discovered, they were thought to be the long awaited cures, but serious side effects have limited their usefulness. The steroids still have a role in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, but they must be used in small doses under careful supervision. The drugs will control pain and inflammation, but without physical measures joint damage will progress.

Millions of dollars are spent each year on widely advertised products which promise relief from arthritic pain. It's much cheaper to take the more effective product, plain aspirin, which acts against inflammation as well as relieving pain.

Doses of aspirin used for the treatment of arthritis are very much larger than those used for relieving headaches. The doctor has to push the dosage up close to the point at which unpleasant side effects are caused. Only he can decide where this point is. It differs with each patient, and takes times to work out for each individual.

Even when drugs don't live up to their promise in the treatment of arthritis, as with the steroids, they often contribute to knowledge of the disease. For example, use of cortisone and its derivatives shed light on the inflammation process.

Many competent scientists are engaged in the search for new drugs for the treatment of arthritis. As investigators get closer to pinpointing the causes of arthritis, there is every reason to hope for an effective cure in the not too distant future.

Physical measures, which play so large a role in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, can also help make the patient's life easier.

Raising a chair's legs makes it easier for the patient to get in and out of his favorite seat; there is a way of pushing one's self out of the chair which won't hurt sore wrists. Housewives can be shown how to perform their tasks in a less tiring manner, and there are all sorts of appliances which help arthritics with limited function perform normal tasks.

A large part of treatment of rheumatoid arthritis is education of the patient and his family.

If you do have rheumatoid arthritis, find a doctor you like; you're going to be seeing a lot of him.

In the end, only the patient, by sticking to his exercises and other prescribed treatment, can prevent crippling and deformity.

West Likes Romney

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — (NEA)—Gov. George Romney of Michigan brought off remarkably well the real aims of his 6-day sweep through Alaska, Utah, Idaho, New Mexico and Arizona.

He was the westerner, even the country boy, coming home to places where he had grown up. He was the rugged physical specimen ready for the challenges of the outdoors. And he was the Republican presidential prospect who, while widely painted as a moderate and liberal, could offer himself as having strong strains of the conservatism the West seems to reflect so heavily.

In Alaska, he led a dog team in a race across thick snow, rode a horse, flew north from Anchorage in a vain try at seeing cloud-covered Mt. McKinley, laughingly rubbed noses — Eskimo style — at a miners' and trappers' ball.

Riding in a bus toward scenes of his Mormon boyhood at Rexburg, Idaho, Romney pointed toward the Big Sawtooth Mountains and said:

"Over there is that south fork of the Salmon River which Bobby Kennedy went down. I went down it about four years ago . . . who did it first? I did!"

His warmly nostalgic tales of his hardship days in southeastern Idaho clearly touched his listeners. He seemed to be living again not only a part of his life but some of the West's bold history as he moved about, finding old friends and familiar sights.

He recalled his first date with a girl, the time he drove a grain binder into a fence, the hours in the sugar beet and wheat fields. At an evening Republican dinner, he found no embarrassment in donning a gaudy Indian headdress.

But all this was largely a colorful backdrop for the more serious, purposeful going of George Romney, likely presidential candidate.

In more than a score of talks and press conferences sprinkled heavily through his western swing, the governor hammered doggedly on themes the conservatives cherish — the too-bigness of the federal government, the need for more stress on state-local government, more individual self-reliance and voluntary co-operation, more regard for law and order.

The attention to these themes was deliberate. Romney was out to prove himself genuinely acceptable to, if not the first choice of, the conservatives who probably will bulk very large in western delegations to the 1968 GOP presidential convention.

The first choice of many, even in Mormon country which spreads beyond Utah into Idaho, New Mexico, Arizona and other mountain states, is generally Richard Nixon — though Gov. Ronald Reagan of California naturally has numerous zealous partisans.

Romney will never match either of these gentlemen in tossing to conservatives the raw meat so many love. Though he sometimes thunders in anger, most of his speeches he reads with the air of a corporation president — which he was — working his way through his company's annual report.

Nor will conservatives find it altogether easy to take the strong liberal elements in Romney's philosophy and performance. When he talked of urban needs to a warmly receptive audience of Republicans here, a chill fell over the room.

In Salt Lake City, a heavily Mormon gathering of Republicans applauded when he declared his firm support of fair housing laws. But a Utah Republican leader told this reporter later:

"Most of the people who applauded him don't agree with that."

Yet an Idaho Republican said many Mormons are "beginning to rationalize Romney" to search for comfort in his conservative utterances so they can back him if he runs in 1968.

Many westerners who watched the Michigan governor perform on his six-state exploration privately voiced admiration for his good character, his evident trustworthiness, the look and sound of authority which he conveys.

Romney not only seems to inspire trust but to suggest constructive and positive action as well. If western Republicans finally do give him broad acceptance, it may be because they realize that he, acting forcefully from deep religious conviction, means what they say.

Margaret Wagar of Atlanta has been one of the best bridge players in the world for quite awhile. When she first appeared on the bridge scene no one realized that this pretty girl with the Southern accent could play the cards just about perfectly. That is, no one realized it until about the second time they played against her.

Here is a hand that she played against a couple of Eastern experts back in those days. She won the first spade in dummy and played dummy's king of diamonds. East played the deuce and West the five. A second diamond was led from dummy and East played the ten. This is a standard false card play against a poor declarer. In theory it is only a poor declarer who tries to drop a singleton queen with this card combination and the ten spot play is meant to imply that the man who plays it either has no more or the queen. If he has no more, declarer must lose a trick but if he has the queen, declarer can finesse. This encourages the poor declarer to finesse. Against a good declarer the false card makes no difference, he was going to finesse in any event.

Against the very good declarer it may backfire. Margaret thought awhile and went up with her ace!

East was indignant. "Didn't you see my ten?" he asked. "Of course," said Margaret. "I also saw your partner's five spot. I just knew that either one of you would try to fool me if you could. If he held eight-five he would have played the eight."

Ann Landers
Better Add On Your Own Soap Opera End

Dear Ann Landers: Am I some kind of a nut? Perhaps if I write my problem down on paper it will look so ridiculous that I will be ashamed of myself and get back to normal.

I am Mrs. Average Housewife, married nearly 30 years. I have a wonderful family and a fine husband. We have no financial problems, no in-law problems and none of the heartaches that plague most people. I should be a contented, balanced person, but I think I am crazy. Please listen to this:

A few months ago I began watching a soap opera, one of those drippy daytime things. Pretty soon I found myself looking forward to the program with great eagerness. After a few months I was completely hooked.

Last week one of the leading male characters died. I went into a depression and couldn't eat dinner. I felt as if I had lost a member of my family. My husband asked what was wrong. Naturally I didn't tell him.

Why would a normal, middle-aged woman react like this? It's been three days and I'm still depressed. Can you help me or do I need a psychoanalyst? —IDIOT BOX VICTIM

Dear I. B. V.: Obviously you began to think of the soap opera character as a personal friend. This does not mean you are loony but it does suggest you identified with him much too strongly.

If you are still grieving by the time this letter appears, tell yourself that when the male lead in a soap opera dies it means his agent got him a better job on Broadway—or if it's a girl she married Frank Sinatra.

Dear Ann Landers: Does a babysitter have to tell people the truth when she doesn't want to take a job?

A certain woman has called me three times in the last two weeks I have fibbed and said I was busy although I had nothing else to do. I dread going to that house because the children are like wild animals.

The two older boys (seven and eight years old) fight something terrible. I don't feel it is the sitter's job to referee battles. Besides I always end up being bitten or kicked or hit.

The youngest child is a girl 3 years old and she is not trained yet. I think she refuses to be trained just to show who is boss. My mother says white lies are all right if they are for a good reason, like sparing someone's feelings. But I feel guilty saying I am busy when I'm not. Would it be best to tell the woman I don't want to work for her anymore because her children are like impossible? — TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES

Dear Truth: Isn't it enough that you have been hit and bitten over there? Don't let those kids make a liar out of you, too.

Tell the woman you don't care to sit with her children because they are too difficult to control. Maybe when the mother hears the sad truth from an outsider she'll do something about it.

Confidentially to Hurt And Bitter: Man's capacity for cruelty to Woman is matched only by her ability to remember it. Nothing is gained by picking at wounds. You merely prevent them from healing. Do yourself a favor and forgive him.

To solve some of the frustrations, disappointments and disillusionments of married life, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Chicago Lake Recreational Area Planned

The U.S. Forest Service plans to purchase 1,323 acres in the Chicago Lake area of Garden and Nehma Townships for future developments into a park and recreational area, Marvin Marshall of the Forest Service informed the Board of Supervisors Wednesday night.

Included in the purchase will be 100 per cent of the frontage on Chicago and Vista Lakes, 80 per cent frontage on Remington Lake and 10 per cent frontage on Jug Lake.

"Acquisition of this tract will provide a major attraction and the opportunity to develop a major public recreation complex that will not only serve the recreation needs of Delta County residents, but will attract vacationers to the area," Marshall said.

Plan Camp Site
"Development of camp and picnic sites around Chicago Lake with walk-in units located on smaller lakes is planned. Access routes to provide hunting and fishing opportunities will also be developed."

The tract to be acquired is located about four miles east of Federal Highway 13 and about 3 1/2 miles southwest of the popular Camp Seven Lake campground.

Marshall said that development of the area, once purchase is completed, is several years away, however.

He said the Forest Service hopes to complete purchase of the tract from Warren Miller, Anderson, Ind., later this summer. Once this is completed he said, then the Forest Service can proceed with recreational plans, including surveying of the area.

"Development is dependent on our annual appropriation," he said.

Marshall indicated that the Chicago Lake tract is considered a "key" tract in the Hiawatha National Forest and would have a "high priority" for development.

CONFERRING ON PLANS for the Whitefish Hill historical marker at a meeting in Escanaba Wednesday were (from left) Luther M. Barrett, committee chairman; Dr. Harry Kelsey, Lansing, administrative director, Michigan Historical Commission; Robert Schmeling, Delta County Historical Society president; Newman Bergh, Newberry, State Highway Department district forester; Robert Clayton, recreational planner, and Reinhold Chase, district ranger, U. S. Forest Service; Harold Bergman and Clint Dunathan of the committee. (Daily Press Photo)

Historic Trail And River Will Be Marked In Delta

The Whitefish River route of early-day trade and travel and the "rushing Escanaba" river of the Noquet Indians will be the first to be marked in a program sponsored by the Delta County Historical Society.

The Society's historical markers committee, headed by Luther M. Barrett, met in a further discussion of the signs Wednesday afternoon in Escanaba.

One of the markers will be erected on the bank of the Escanaba River across from the main entrance to Pioneer Trail Park on U.S. 2-41 and M-35; and the other will be located on the east side of U.S. 2 at the Whitefish Hill.

The Delta County Road Commission and the State Highway Department are cooperating in the construction of suitable turnout areas where the signs are to be erected.

State Approved
The markers are being financed by a gift of $500 from The Escanaba Daily Press, and their preparation has the cooperation of the Michigan Historical Commission. The Commission designates them as officially approved and gives them state-wide listing.

Present at the meeting of the committee were representatives of the Historical Commission, the State Highway Department, and the U.S. Forest Service.

Robert Clayton, recreation planner, and Reinhold Chase, district ranger, Rapid River, of the Forest Service, are assisting in the Whitefish Hill marker, which will designate the southern terminus of the old Bay de Noc-Grand Island Portage Trail.

The trail was used by the Indians for centuries before the arrival of the white man, and then continued as an important route leading to the fur trading center on Grand Island in Munising Bay.

Clayton pointed out that research by the Forest Service indicates the trail was worn deep into the ground by the feet of the Indians traversing it, and that quantities of furs were carried over it. At Grand Island the Indians traded pelts of beaver and other animals for goods — each pelt having a specific value in lieu of money.

Recreation Route
The trail will be designated on a map as a part of the historical marker. It will be shown as it existed before other roadways were constructed. Presently the Forest Service is developing the trail as a recreation route — for riding and hiking in summer, and snowmobiling in the wintertime.

Newman Bergh, State Highway Department district forester of Newberry, described the Department's plans for developing the sites where the markers will be located. There will be turnouts where motorists may stop and view the markers.

Dr. Harry Kelsey, Lansing, administrative director of the Michigan Historical Commission, told the group that the markers have received Com-

School Principals Meet In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Association of Elementary School Principals will hold their annual convention March 8-10 in Detroit. Some 1,000 Michigan elementary principals are expected to attend.

Board Okays Mead Road

The County Board of Supervisors Wednesday gave unanimous approval to the Road Commission to construct a new access road for Mead Corp. through the northern part of Pioneer Trail Park.

The request had been approved by the Road Commission.

Mead officials said the road would allow the firm to shift its pulpwood storage yards further east. Purpose of the move would be to avoid the congested truck, pedestrian and rail traffic over the narrow bridge entry to the paper mill across the Escanaba River.

"The bridge is a bottleneck," said Harold Vanlerberghe, Mead traffic manager.

The new road, which requires approval of the State Highway Dept., would be a public road to Mead property. It would start at U. S. 2 and 41 north of the Escanaba River bridge and proceed east through the northern boundary of Pioneer Trail Park west of the highway.

The park in that area is currently undeveloped.

In other action, the Board gave approval to a 60-day leave of absence for Sheriff C. A. (Cully) Johnson; agreed to purchase up to $500 worth of advertising in the program book for the coming Upper Peninsula American Legion convention in Escanaba; and heard an offer by the Delta County Humane Society of assistance in developing a new animal shelter in the county.

College Sites Are Reviewed

Seven possible sites for the development of a campus for Bay de Noc Community college were examined Wednesday by Richard Wiggins, planning consultant for the college.

Wiggins is a representative of Daverman Associates, Inc., of Grand Rapids, Mich., Milwaukee and Madison, Wis., which has been retained by the college to conduct a campus development study.

Sites examined by Wiggins were: 1, the Gladstone bluff; 2, Gladstone east end property; 3, an area along Little Bay de Noc near Masonville; 4, an area along U. S. 2 and 41 at the north city limits of Escanaba; 5, an area west of Escanaba Area high school; 6, an area west of the U. P. State Fairgrounds, and 7, the existing location.

The locations near the Fairgrounds and at the north city limits were added to the original five sites recommended by the college Board of Trustees last month.

Wiggins also met with representatives of the Bay de Noc student body, with faculty representatives and with members of local government.

Wiggins said the campus development analysis will be presented as a tabulated numerical ranking of each site, predicated upon an object analysis of ten to fifteen criteria, established by the faculty, students and consultants to the Board of Trustees. In this way the reasoning process and relative merits of various options can be logically compared, he said.

The opportunity to develop a college campus with alternative educational concepts, stemming from extensive studies conducted by faculty committees with the assistance of consultants and advice from individual citizens, and members of the College-Community Liaison Committee, will also be considered.

The site considerations following the educational planning and will lead to a long range plan. The final plan will include statements of the planned instructional process, the service district, and a schedule for development.

Friday Deadline For Referendum On Lawmaker Pay

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Facing a Friday deadline, attorney Joseph A. Renihan says he hopes to have the required number of signatures on petitions calling for a referendum on the salaries of state lawmakers.

Renihan, state chairman of the Pay Raise Referendum Committee, said Wednesday about 125,000 signatures are needed to place the question on the ballot. He said about 30,000 to 40,000 voters in Kent County have signed the petitions.

The Grand Rapids attorney said the committee hoped to receive about 100,000 signatures from the Detroit area where Renihan says a Dearborn man volunteered to head a petition drive.

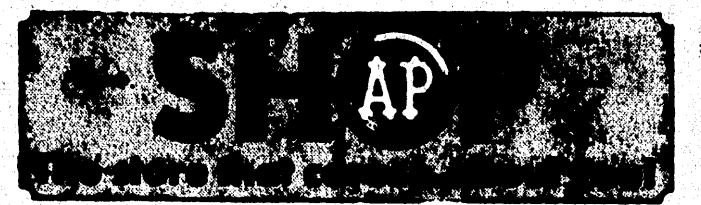

Petitions must be filed with the secretary of state by Wednesday but Renihan set the Friday deadline so he can check the signatures before sending them to Lansing.

New Mexico Gov. Walks To Work

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—"I'm going to start walking to work so people can get the idea they can walk two or three blocks. We've got to tighten up."

New Mexico Gov. David Carrasco said it, and to emphasize a need for economy in state government, he plans to walk to and from work. The governor's mansion is two miles from his office, but he said part of the walk will be downhill.

The governor, 57, a physical fitness enthusiast, told a news conference Wednesday that some employees drive state cars to work.

Natchez Negro Leader Blames Klan For Bomb

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Federal and state officers today pressed for links in the bomb-blast that killed Wharless Jackson, a Natchez civil rights leader.

Federal bomb experts, under the direction of Mississippi's ranking FBI special agent, Roy K. Moore, awaited preliminary findings from their crime laboratory.

Jackson died when a bomb ripped through his pickup truck Monday night as he drove home from his job at the Armstrong Rubber Co. plant here.

Charles Evers, state field director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, promised continued protests until Jackson's funeral is held Sunday.

Jackson, 38, father of five, worked at the Armstrong plant for 12 years. He will be buried Monday in the National Cemetery here.

Evers called for a boycott of downtown merchants and a march on the courthouse Saturday in memory of Jackson, one-time treasurer of the Natchez Branch of the NAACP.

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, will lead the funeral procession, set for 2:15 p.m. Sunday at the Zion Chapel A.M.E. Church.

About 800 Negroes marched through the city Wednesday without incident.

The city of Natchez has offered $25,000 in rewards for information leading to the arrests and convictions of those behind the bombing. Armstrong posted a $10,000 reward.

Evers charged that members of the Ku Klux Klan were responsible for Jackson's death.

Klansmen Free On Bonds At Hattiesburg

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP)

The wizard of Mississippi's White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and 11 men the FBI identifies as fellow Klansmen were free on $5,000 bonds today after being arrested for conspiring to "intimidate, threaten and coerce" a Negro businessman who died after a fire bomb attack.

Sam H. Bowers Jr., Klan chief, and the others surrendered to U.S. marshals here Wednesday after being indicted by a federal grand jury at Jackson.

The White Knights describe themselves as "a Christian, militant organization disposed to the use of physical force against our enemies."

In a sealed indictment returned Monday, the grand jury charged the 12 men conspired to "intimidate, threaten and coerce" Vernon Ferdinand Dahmer Sr. on account of his race and color for urging and aiding other Negro citizens to vote.

The indictment charged 10 of the 12 attempted to intimidate, threaten and coerce Dahmer "by setting fire to and burning the house and grocery store" of the Negro leader and "by firing guns at that time and place."

The 1965 Voting Rights Act, on which the indictment was based, provides a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine for each count.

Blank Bond Theft Charged To Five

DETROIT (AP)—A 19-year-old employee of the National Bank of Detroit and four other persons have been charged with stealing $100,000 in blank U. S. savings bonds from the bank.

The bank employee, Allen L. Tabron of Detroit, is free on $1,000 personal bond. In addition to theft, he is accused of intent to defraud by forgery.

The bonds were missed by the bank Monday and have not been recovered. Federal men said they have not yet arrested everyone involved in the theft.

The others arraigned Thursday before Federal Judge Talbot Smith were all Detroiters. They were charged with conspiring with Tabron to steal the 1,000 bonds, each carrying a $100 face value.

Alph W. Norden Taken By Death

Alph W. Norden, 43, of Rock died at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday at St. Francis Hospital where he had been a patient for 22 days. He was born April 27, 1923 in Rock and was a member of the Faith Lutheran Church of Rock.

Mr. Norden was a veteran of WW II, serving with the Army. He saw action in the South Pacific Theatre and was wounded in action during the Philippine invasion. As a result of this he underwent 41 operations and was hospitalized for many years. He was a member of American Legion Post 559 of Rock.

Surviving are, his widow, the former Elsie Lampinen; two daughters, Brenda of Rock and Barbara of Waukegan; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Norden of Rock; five brothers, Richard, Lee and William of Waukegan, Ronald of Cages Lake, Ill. and Robert of Rock; five sisters, Mrs. Roy (Clarice) Ackerman and Mrs. Otto (Irene) Turunen of Waukegan, Mrs. Roy (Lois) Curtis of Gurnee, Ill., Mrs. James (Sandra) Carlson of Kenosha and Mrs. Onni (Doris) Johnson of Rock.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p.m. today and the body will be removed at noon on Friday to the Faith Lutheran Church where services will be conducted at 1 p.m. with Rev. Reuben Carlson of Gladstone officiating. Military rites will be conducted by the Rock post and burial will be in the family lot of the Rock Cemetery.

Spying Colonel Given 15 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 15-year prison sentence, termed "light punishment" by the judge, has been imposed on a former Pentagon intelligence officer who confessed to selling military secrets to the Soviets.

U.S. District Court Judge Oren R. Lewis sentenced William Henry Whalen, a retired Army lieutenant colonel, to 10 years on a charge of removing classified documents from their place of safekeeping and five years on the charge of acting as an unregistered foreign agent.

Whalen, 51, a resident of Fairfax County, Va., had worked in the office of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. He pleaded guilty to both charges in December.

Lewis said the charge of espionage — for which Whalen could have received the death penalty — was dropped by the government because it did not wish to reveal the contents of secret documents at the trial.

"I'm sorry for what has happened," Whalen said. "For the rest of my life I will try to make amends for what has happened."

The government contends that Whalen accepted payment from officials of the Soviet Embassy in Washington to turn over information on atomic weapons and missiles.

Congressman May Be Back After Election

after Democrats voted to strip Powell of the Education and Labor Committee chairmanship he had held since 1961. The next day the House voted to keep him out, pending a report by a select committee to be established to investigate his qualifications.

Then Wednesday it rejected the unanimous recommendation of that committee, that Powell be seated but censured for "gross misconduct."

In a series of three votes, the House made Powell the third member-elect to be excluded from membership in the 20th century.

The only persons suffering similar fates since 1900 were Victor Berger, a Wisconsin Socialist convicted of sedition, and Brigham Roberts, a Utah Mormon who had been convicted of polygamy.

Members have received heavy mail from constituents urging that Powell be ousted, and public opinion polls have reported similar feeling. "The voice of the country and the emotion that was part of it finally prevailed," Moore commented.

The select committee tried to sell the censure proposal to the House as the stiffest practical penalty that could be applied without tangling with the courts.

Moore called it "annihilation of a member of this House by total humiliation."

Beyond Humiliation But Rep. Albert W. Watson, R-S.C., contending a resolution could not humiliate Powell, said: "As far as I know, he's down in Bimini with a glass in one hand and a woman in the other."

Powell was last reported fishing, accompanied by his secretary Corrine A. Huff. The censure resolution would have dropped her from her $19,000-a-year job on Powell's staff, but by ousting Powell, the House automatically dismissed his staff as well.

The key vote came on a move to shut off debate, block all amendments and bring the censure proposal to an immediate vote. This was rejected 222 to 202, with 113 Republicans and 109 Democrats joining to defeat 71 Republicans and 131 Democrats.

Vote 307 To 116 Then, by a vote of 248 to 176, the House substituted the proposed by Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., to exclude Powell for the seat and censure plan proposed by the committee. Finally, it voted 307 to 116 in favor of the amended resolution and thus barred Powell.

Curtis, who said later he had been picked by Republican leaders to offer the exclusion motion, said he felt the facts revealed by the Celler committee "warrant his (Powell's) exclusion from this body, not to punish him but to maintain the dignity of this body."

The committee had accused Powell of converting to his own use more than $46,000 in government funds and of contemptuous behavior to the courts of New York — in connection with a longstanding libel judgment — and to the Celler committee itself.

Double Legality Celler, 78, said he thinks the action could be challenged on two constitutional grounds: First, that the House in effect wrote new constitutional qualifications for membership and second, that the action was approved by a majority rather than by two-thirds of the members.

Expulsion of a member must be by a two-thirds vote, but exclusion before the member is sworn in is by a majority vote. "This was expulsion by a majority," Celler said.

Powell To Run As for the special election, a spokesman for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said one must be called within 30 to 40 days after the governor receives official notice of the House action. New York City officials made it clear that Powell could run and be elected without ever setting foot in New York, where he is under an arrest order in connection with the libel judgment.

Powell was asked last weekend in Bimini what he would do if the House failed to seat him. He said he would run and win, adding "even if I'm dead, as long as they keep me propped up, I will be elected."

Curtis predicted that if Powell is elected and seeks his seat "he'll get the same thing again."

Coal Boats End Winter Layup DETROIT (AP) — Coal shipments resumed on the Detroit River Wednesday as the Ford Motor Co. freighter Robert S. McNamara left for Toledo after a month's winter layup. Another coal boat, the Ben W. Calvin of American Steamship Co., is scheduled to start the Toledo coal run Monday. First sailing into the upper lakes is set for later this month.

Pipeline Offers Tax Aid

The Eastern Upper Peninsula is mightily interested these days in what the Federal Power Commission is going to do with the Great Lakes Gas Co. request to build a pipeline through the Lake States—including both Peninsulas of Michigan—to carry natural gas from Northwest Canada to Eastern Canada.

The project is the hope of the Upper Peninsula, from Rapid River to Sault Ste. Marie, to get natural gas, or at least to get it quickly.

Great Lakes Gas Co., a new firm owned jointly by American Natural Gas Co. (parent firm of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.) and Trans-Canada Pipelines, Ltd., has asked the FPC for permission to build the line. It could be tapped by utilities like Michigan Consolidated along its route to supply area needs in the United States, including the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, which supplies the northern part of the Upper Peninsula with natural gas as Michigan Consolidated supplies the southern part, has asked the FPC to delay award of permission for the line south of Lake Superior until it can make a new proposal for payment of gas taken from the line in Minnesota.

An earlier proposal of Northern Natural to substitute American gas at Sarnia, Ontario for Canadian gas taken in Minnesota was rejected by the Canadian Government as against national policy, and the Canadian Government has since notified Trans-Canada Pipelines that it must have more gas line capacity to Eastern Canada by next fall.

This means, Michigan Consolidated has told the FPC, that unless FPC rules immediately on the Great Lakes Gas Co. request, any action by FPC taken later will become meaningless because the decision will have been made in Canada to build the new line on an all-Canadian route north of Lake Superior, where no FPC approval is necessary.

The issue is a hot political one in Michigan with far-reaching implications. Congressman Philip Ruppe has urged FPC to act immediately.

Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Mich.) has said that the tax valuation involved could influence state fiscal reform attitude in the area.

The Lakehead Pipe Line Co. petroleum pipeline from Canada through Michigan traverses the area that would be site for the proposed Great Lakes Gas Co. gas line. Lakehead's line is a 30-inch steel pipe and although it does not run through all of Delta County it adds $1.5 million to the valuation of Delta County. (This oil line is tapped by Gustafson Oil Co. at its Rapid River refinery for the raw materials for its refining of heavy heating oils.)

The bigger Great Lakes Gas Co. 36-inch line would mean an estimated addition of $2 to $3 million to Delta's state equalized tax valuation.

In Mackinac County to the east, a very long county which would be traversed by the line and a branch to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Ontario, the tax assistance would be more spectacular. It is estimated that the gas pipeline there could add as much as $8 to $7 million to the county's valuation, which would mean an addition of one quarter to its worth for tax purposes.

Peter Ross, director of the Delta County Tax Department, said "this is specially desirable type of tax value because it costs only a 3 cent bill and a 5 cent stamp to collect the tax and the county needs spend nothing on the facility, it requires no snowplowing, no schoolbus or policing; it's buried in the ground and isn't ever unsightly."

Pat Hayes, House of Representatives proprietor, said the watercolor was on the wall in a second floor hallway. The glass covering the painting was opened with a glass cutter and the painting was then removed.

The subject of the painting by Moreau was actress Linda Christian, the widow of Tyrone Power. Hayes said the painting was valued at $500.

THE PRESENT Trans-Canada natural gas pipeline north of Lake Superior is shown here in the solid line and the proposed new Great Lakes Gas Co. pipeline through Michigan is shown by the dotted line. Unless the Federal Power Commission acts quickly on the request of Great Lakes Gas Co. for permission to build the line through the Lakes States, the Canadians will build it north of Lake Superior in order to get more natural gas from their huge fields in Northwest Canada to Eastern Canada by the end of this year, Michigan Consolidated has told FPC.

In Mackinac County to the east, a very long county which would be traversed by the line and a branch to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Ontario, the tax assistance would be more spectacular. It is estimated that the gas pipeline there could add as much as $8 to $7 million to the county's valuation, which would mean an addition of one quarter to its worth for tax purposes.

Peter Ross, director of the Delta County Tax Department, said "this is specially desirable type of tax value because it costs only a 3 cent bill and a 5 cent stamp to collect the tax and the county needs spend nothing on the facility, it requires no snowplowing, no schoolbus or policing; it's buried in the ground and isn't ever unsightly."

Pat Hayes, House of Representatives proprietor, said the watercolor was on the wall in a second floor hallway. The glass covering the painting was opened with a glass cutter and the painting was then removed.

The subject of the painting by Moreau was actress Linda Christian, the widow of Tyrone Power. Hayes said the painting was valued at $500.

been made in Canada to build the new line on an all-Canadian route north of Lake Superior, where no FPC approval is necessary.

The issue is a hot political one in Michigan with far-reaching implications. Congressman Philip Ruppe has urged FPC to act immediately.

Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Mich.) has said that the tax valuation involved could influence state fiscal reform attitude in the area.

The Lakehead Pipe Line Co. petroleum pipeline from Canada through Michigan traverses the area that would be site for the proposed Great Lakes Gas Co. gas line. Lakehead's line is a 30-inch steel pipe and although it does not run through all of Delta County it adds $1.5 million to the valuation of Delta County. (This oil line is tapped by Gustafson Oil Co. at its Rapid River refinery for the raw materials for its refining of heavy heating oils.)

The bigger Great Lakes Gas Co. 36-inch line would mean an estimated addition of $2 to $3 million to Delta's state equalized tax valuation.

LAUGHING WHITE FISH FALLS, in Alger County, long has been coveted by the Michigan Conservation Department as a state park location. A gift and land exchange deal is due to make the project a reality this summer. The falls, pictured above, flows over a series of ledges and into a gorge left untouched because loggers were unable to get out the timber. (AP Wirephoto)

Laughing White Fish Falls Is Celotex Gift

By BOB VOGES
LANSING (AP) — Laughing White Fish Falls and its remote, forested gorge finally seem assured of being saved as a scenic spot for the people of Michigan. The State Conservation Commission and the Parks Department have been eyeing the falls since as long ago as 1950. An exchange with the Celotex Corp., owner of the area, was authorized at the December, 1965, meeting of the commission.

Ted Tucker, of the department's Land Division, said the exchange agreement finally has been worked out. Tucker is hopeful that the state will be able to take title to the land some time in mid-summer. The falls looks from a distance like a cut-out creation of lace as the winter travels down a series of rock ledges. Only the inaccessibility of the deep gorge in Alger County saved the climax growth of virgin White Pine, Hemlock and hardwoods.

The early loggers just weren't able to figure an economical way of hauling the trees out of the gorge. "Some people look upon the heavily timbered gorge itself as more of an attraction than the falls," said Tucker. "From the deep cut of the gorge, you can see this was once a much more powerful river."

Gift Of Falls Area
Celotex Corp., is making a gift of 100 acres of the falls area to the state. Some 300 acres of land in the gorge is being swapped for 1,440 acres of land near L'Anse, Baraga County.

To encourage similar donations by private land owners to the state, Louis Twardzik, associate professor of parks and recreation administration at Michigan State University, has come up with a unique idea.

Twardzik believes there should be a better way of determining the fair market value of such areas. Celotex, he said, will receive little in tax benefits for its contribution.

"The market value of the 100 acres is negligible if only the timber is considered," he said, "due to the difficulty of recovery of logs in the gorge."

Twardzik proposed that the market value of the area be based on the number of customers willing to pay to see the unusual scenery after it had been developed as a state park and had been in operation for five years.

Exception Needed
This could be figured, he said, by the number of 50 cent car entrance fees or the total of visitors over a five-year period. This would be deferred market value.

"Unlike other donations of real property benefiting the public welfare, and the subsequent tax advantage to the donor, such benefits are generally not available to the donors of unique natural areas," Twardzik said.

There should be exceptions to the "rules of the market place", he said, to bridge the gap between aesthetics and economics.

No Federal Aid In Snow Costs

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan communities that hoped for federal aid to help pay for snow removal costs are out of luck, advises the State Civil Defense director.

Col. Frederick Davis, State Police and Civil Defense chief, said federal funds provided under the National Disaster Act, administered through Civil Defense, will not be available for this purpose.

Davis said federal funds are available only when a major disaster has been declared. Michigan's storm of late January, severe as it might have been, does not come under the natural disaster classification, he said.

Weekend With Professors At Iron Mt. Apr. 7

Professor Norman C. Thomas of the Political Science Department, Professor Paul Cooper of the School of Music and Professor Hazel M. Losh of the Astronomy Department, all of the University of Michigan, will be lecturers at a University of Michigan program at Hotel Dickinson, Iron Mountain on Friday and Saturday, April 7 and 8.

This "A Weekend with the Professors" is intended for people who like to keep up with developments in intellectual fields such as political science, music, and astronomy. The lecturers will be for lay persons who are no experts in these fields.

Thomas will speak on the 1966 elections; Cooper on "The Composer As A Contemporary" and Miss Losh on "Astronomy Then and Now."

Folders describing the "Weekend" will be available from the University of Michigan Extension Service, Escanaba.

Germfask

Darwin D. Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon H. Lloyd Sr., of Germfask was recently promoted to the rank of Staff Sergeant. He is presently stationed at Perrin Air Force Base, Sherman, Texas. He is married to the former Jenny Lee Friedrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Friedrich of Schulenburg, Texas.

The Germfask - Seney PTA met Monday night at the Germfask Elementary School. The snowmobile races have been postponed until March 12 at St. Theresa Grounds. The races are sponsored by the PTA.

Mrs. William Caffey was hostess to the East End Craft Club Tuesday afternoon at her home. The next meeting will be held March 7 at the home of Mrs. Redverse Thibadeau.

Planning Commission Hearing

The Planning Commission of the City of Escanaba, will hold an informal hearing on March 9th at 4:00 p. m. in the City Hall Council Chambers to rezone all of the Residence A District to Residence B on Sheridan Road from 8th Ave. North to 12th Ave. North and between Sheridan Road and Stephenson Ave. from 8th Ave. North to 10th Ave. North.

Farm Product To Be Announced At State Fair

The contest to pick Michigan's Agricultural Development of the year will extend into the summer and the state award will be presented at the State Fair in Detroit, President Edgar L. Harden of Northern Michigan University, Marquette, general chairman of the 14th annual Michigan Week May 21-27, announced today.

In the past the agriculture award program has been carried on side by side with the Industrial Product of the Year program during Michigan Week.

"From now on, the agriculture contest will have its own timetable and spotlight," Dr. Harden said.

Richard Arnold, executive secretary of the Michigan Agricultural Conference and farm director of radio station WKAR at MSU, is the deputy chairman of the state Product and Agriculture Awards committee who will direct the agriculture contest.

The 1966 winner was Gerber Products Co., Fremont baby food manufacturer, for development of sweet potato growing in Michigan. The 1965 winner was Andrew F. Murch of Paw Paw for a new method of grape juice processing.

Isabella

Larry's Bar won the cribbage series against the Penguin Bar with a score of 47-52.

The 12 Belles Bunco Club was entertained by Mrs. William Rogers. Awards were presented to Mrs. William Donnell, Mrs. Henry Turan, and Mrs. William Nedeau. Special prize went to Mrs. Herbert Blowers. The next hostess will be Mrs. Henry Turan.

Mrs. Henry Legault served as hostess to the ladies fellowship at her home Wednesday, March 1, at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Arvid Sundin left for Detroit where she will attend the wedding of her nephew, Hugo Magnusson on Saturday.

Burton Peterson is attending special night classes at the University of Chicago at Chicago, Ill.

The Ladies of Bethany Lutheran Church are extending a helping hand to a Task Force soldier in Viet Nam by sending him soap, bandages, tape, and bed sheets and clothing of any kind to help him to care for some of the injured and sick in his unit.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Peterson spent the weekend at Madison, Wis., visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rungtette and family and also to attend the tournament games.

Stevens Promoted

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police Lt. Walter Stevens, commander of the East Lansing training division, has been promoted to captain and named to command the 6th District at Rockford. He succeeds Capt. Leroy Hunt, who is retiring.

Bodil Nordman Bride Of Dr. M. Soderberg

A double ring ceremony united in marriage Bodil Gerda Maria Nordman and Dr. Milton Daniel Soderberg on Dec. 27, 1966. The wedding took place at Gamla kyrkan in Helsinki, Finland, before a small group of relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lindqvist of Gothenburg, Sweden, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, were attendants. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Soderberg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric J. Nordman of Helsinki. She is a graduate of Svenska Flicklyceet of Helsinki, Mariatorbundet of Copenhagen and the Helsinki Swedish Institute of Nursing. She has been employed as a nurse at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor, Mich., and has also served as a nursing instructor at her alma mater.

Dr. Soderberg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Soderberg of Rapid River. He is a graduate of Rapid River High School and the University of Michigan Medical School. While at the University of Michigan he was affiliated with Alpha Phi Omega, Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Rho Sigma.

He served his internship at Wayne County General Hospital and completed two years in the Medical Corps of the United States Army. He is presently enrolled in a dermatology residency at Temple University in Philadelphia, Pa.

Half-bottles of wine are handy to have on hand to use when a recipe calls for wine.

Wedding Of The Year Plans Are Announced

By MARGARET SCHERF

CHICAGO (AP) — Many prominent persons were hoping today to receive one of the cream-colored, engraved by Tiffany tickets to 1967's wedding of the year.

Some 2,000 invitations to the April 1 wedding of Sharon Percy and John D. Rockefeller IV are in the mail.

Not since Luci Johnson and Patrick Nugent announced their engagement has a young couple's marital plans aroused so much interest.

Like the President's daughter, Sharon has expressed the hope that she and her fiancé will be treated "just like any other couple."

Her wish is as unlikely to be granted as was Luci's. Rockefeller, 29, nephew of Republican Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, recently was elected to the West Virginia Legislature as a Democrat.

Sharon, 21, whose father, Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, is mentioned as a possible Republican contender for the presidency, says she has become a Democrat since her engagement.

"Love takes precedence over politics," her father commented when told of the switch.

Sharon chose the University of Chicago's Rockefeller Chapel for her wedding.

Sharon will walk a 265-foot-long aisle to the altar, past 51 pews in which the 2,000 guests will be seated.

Because the Christian Science denomination, of which the Percys are members, has no set marriage service, the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer will be used. An organ and choir will furnish music.

A reception immediately after the wedding will be held in Ida Noyes Hall, a student center resembling an English Tudor manor house, across the street from the chapel.

One hundred guests have been invited to the traditional rehearsal dinner on the wedding eve given by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller III, in the Arts Club.

The couple will honeymoon in Hong Kong and Japan, where Rockefeller studied and taught for three years.

They will live in the $75,000, one-story red-brick house in a Charleston, W.Va., suburb which Rockefeller has spent $25,000 remodeling.

A married couple will serve as housekeeper and caretaker on the 16-acre estate.

Fluoride Cards Issued To Rock Students

Cards for the sodium fluoride treatment have been issued to students in Rock. Mrs. Clayton Kanerva and Mrs. Robert Koski will be at the Rock school Monday, March 6 from 8-9 a. m. to collect the cards, which are to be signed by a parent or guardian.

The $3.00 fee will also be collected at this time, if students wish to participate in this program which will be at Rapid River sometime in May or June.

Pre-schoolers 3-4 years old, grades second, fifth and eighth may participate. Anyone who did not receive a card, may call Mrs. Kanerva or Koski for information. Children enrolling will have four applications spaced one to seven days apart.

Births

VANDRESE—Mr. and Mrs. Leland Vandrese of Green Bay are the parents of a son born on Feb. 28 and weighing 5 pounds and 11 ounces. He has been named Terry Lee. Mrs. Vandrese is the former Betty Demith of Lena, Wis. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Demith of Lena and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vandrese of Gladstone, Wis.

First Lady Talks About Pending Grandmotherhood

WASHINGTON (AP) — The First Lady says daughter Luci is pregnant.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson published Wednesday at a Capitol luncheon about her pending grandmotherhood in May, or June. Her press secretary later confirmed the remarks.

So far, neither Luci, 19, nor her husband, Patrick J. Nugent, has confirmed the expected birth of their first child. They live in Austin, Texas. They were married Aug. 6, 1966.

Mrs. Johnson broke the news in chit-chat at a luncheon given by Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., for about 20 women including Cabinet and Senate wives.

The grandchild would be President and Mrs. Johnson's first.

Nugent works for the Johnson family-owned broadcasting firm in Austin and has been attending the University of Texas.

Earlier Wednesday the White House denied a report that the top floor of Holy Cross Hospital in Austin would be used for the expected birth.

Until Mrs. Johnson broke the news the White House had consistently refused comment on whether Luci was expecting.

Bobby's Book Is Delayed By Row With Publishers

NEW YORK (AP) — The dispute between the Kennedy family and Harper & Row publishers over the book, "The Death of a President," apparently prompted Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to halt publication of a book containing the senator's major speeches, it was learned today.

An announcement of publication of the senator's book, "New Problems, New Proposals," appeared in Harper & Row's winter catalogue last November.

Recently, Evan Thomas, vice president of Harper & Row, said the 150-year-old publishing house decided to drop the book from the winter schedule.

"The first indication that there would be a delay came last December when the senator failed to send us the introduction to the book," said Thomas. "We sent some inquiries to Washington, but received no reply."

"He got a reply to everything he sent," a Kennedy aide said. "If he didn't it was simply because the senator didn't have time. Some material was not furnished. It was not completely buttonholed."

Agreed To Delay
Cass Canfield, chairman of the executive committee of Harper & Row, said that a few months ago, after part of the book already had been set in type, Kennedy suggested holding up publication for additional material.

"We both agreed to put in some more speeches," said Canfield.

The Kennedy aide said that to the best of his recollection the decision to postpone publication of the book was made sometime in late October or early November 1966.

"There hasn't been any discussion since the postponement," the aide said.

Another source said the reason for the postponement was the anticipated controversy stirred up by author William Manchester's book, "The Death of a President," which Harper & Row is publishing in April after reaching an out-of-court settlement with Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Controversy Shaping Up
Mrs. Kennedy sued Manchester and Harper & Row last December to block publication of the book on grounds some passages were too personal and were an invasion of privacy. An agreement was reached, and Mrs. Kennedy dropped the suit.

While the postponement of the senator's book was decided on either in late October or early November, several weeks before Mrs. Kennedy brought her suit in December, the source explained that a controversy was shaping up at the time of the postponement of the Robert Kennedy book.

The source said it was felt by both the Kennedys and Harper & Row that it would be unwise to proceed with the senator's book while the Manchester book controversy was still up in the air.

Germfask

V. F. W. Post 8962 held a business meeting Tuesday night at the club rooms.

Archie Musselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Musselman of Germfask, was recently promoted to the rank of Staff Sergeant. He is stationed at Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, Ill. He is married to the former Joyce Lockhart of Little Rock, Ark. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Musselman and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Kathleen England, visited the family recently.

Mrs. William Miller entertained the 500 club Friday afternoon.

Omar Doran returned from Minneapolis, Minn., where he attended a Conservation Clerk School at the regional office. He was accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Doran Sr. who visited at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Rushford at Anoka, Minn.

R. J. Tuttle returned from Flint where he visited with relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Swisher and children Kay Lynn and Michael Joseph of Ann Arbor were guests of George Swisher and family over the weekend. They also visited Mrs. Emmett Crawn and other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bowler were injured in a two car accident on US 2, Friday evening and were taken to the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital for treatment.

Divided Germany Is Aim Of Bloc Of Red Nations

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany are forging a new Communist sub-bloc dedicated to perpetuating the division of Germany.

Poland and Czechoslovakia took the first step in Warsaw with the signing of a 20-year renewal of their 1947 friendship and assistance treaty.

Closing the triangle, East German government and Communist party chief Walter Ulbricht will travel to Warsaw and Prague in mid-March to sign similar pacts with Poland and Czechoslovakia, informed Communist sources said.

They said the result will be an "iron triangle" to secure East Germany against West Germany's territorial aspirations and its claims to represent the whole German people.

Some Western diplomats call it a "paper triangle" of pledges stemming from Polish and East German anxiety about the responsiveness of their southern allies to overtures from the new West German government in Bonn.

Ypsilanti Greek Theater Gets A Survival Chance

YPSILANTI (AP) — Two groups of local businessmen have agreed to try to breathe life into the artistically brilliant but financially tragic Ypsilanti Greek Theater.

The theater's board of directors had set Tuesday as a deadline for raising $500,000 before making plans for the coming season.

At last report, they had only a promise of $50,000 in the till. But the board asked the Ypsilanti Chamber of Commerce and Ypsilanti Industrial Development Corp. to take over the business management of the theater.

The groups agreed Tuesday and the theater board gave itself another 30 days to find the money.

Amateurs Need Help

When it opened last year, the theater was the only major theatrical company to present classical Greek plays in English. Critical praise didn't fill the seats and the theater ended the season nearly $250,000 in debt.

Mao Moves To Restore Order

HONG KONG (AP) — The Hong Kong Star reported today that Mao Tse-tung has given Premier Chou En-lai full executive powers to stop Mao's cultural revolution purge and restore China's economy.

The Star said its report came from "its own sources inside China" but did not identify them further.

The Star's report coincided with an announcement by the Hong Kong government that Red China's exports to Hong Kong, its biggest market, dropped more than $8.2 million in January. Trade circles blamed the upheaval caused by Mao's purge and predicted Chinese exports would drop still further.

The Star, an English-language tabloid published and edited by Australians, also said Defense Minister Lin Piao had disagreed with Mao over several aspects of the purge.

Lin Piao is believed by many Western observers in Hong Kong to be the guiding power behind Mao, but the Star quoted its sources as saying Lin believed Mao had gone too far.

with Roy Crandall

Todd Lundeman, a sophomore star on the Channing team, rimmed 23 points to lead the Railroaders to a 79-33 Class D district tournament decision over National Mine. . . . Lundeman boosted his season total to 331 and his two-year varsity points to over 500. . . . The victory was the 17th in 20 starts for Coach Don Benzie's cagers this season.

Con Yagodzinski, former Holy Name High School star, will play his final game in a Northern Michigan University uniform Friday night when the Wildcats face Helsinki State at Marquette. . . . The 6 foot 5 inch center co-captain banged in 21 points in his last start against St. Cloud, hitting nine of 12 shots from the field. . . . That boosted his career total to 1,464 in three years.

After losing two games to White Pine in the regular season, Marquette upset the Warriors, 60-55, in a Class D district tournament game at Ironwood. . . . Dick McKenzie, one of the 20 players averaging 20 or more points per game during the regular season in the U. P., tallied 13 for Marquette. . . . The victory moves Marquette into a semifinal game tonight. . . . Even features 6 foot 9 inch center Terry Conrad who tossed in 66 points in the final game of the season against Watermeet last weekend.

Upper Peninsula high school teams had a big edge over Wisconsin opponents this season. . . . U. P. teams won 69 of 78 games against Badger foes during the campaign. . . . Wakefield led the way with eight straight victories.

The L'Anse Hornets, defending state Class C champs, have a formidable three-way scoring threat going for them this season. . . . Gerry Gerard, Bob Fredrikson and Deane Kent combined to score 1,107 of their team's 1,501 points during a 17-0 regular season record. . . . Gerard tallied 517, Fredrikson 296 and Kent 294.

The Suomi College basketball team dropped its final game of the season to University of Wisconsin Wausau Center, 33-76. . . . Dave Vertanen, leading scorer on the Hancock team with an average of over 25 points per start, was held to 10 as the Lions closed their season with a 23-4 record. . . . Jon Cameron scored 12 points and grabbed 18 rebounds.

Frank Ahlich, 6 foot 1 1/2 inch senior center at St. Ignace, averaged over 17 rebounds per game during the regular season and hit on over 50 percent of his shots from the field while averaging 14.7 points per start. . . . St. Ignace, coached by Gene Shank, competes in the Huron Straits Conference. . . . Another outstanding player on the team is Clem O'Rourke, 6-1 junior forward, with a 17.3 scoring average.

Stephenson's junior high school basketball team won its own tournament last weekend, downing Powers-Spalding by a 43-27 margin in the finals. . . . Wallace tripped Hermansville, 33-26, for consolation honors.

Margaret Seidl, bowling in the Thursday Women's Bowls League, sandwiched a 151 game with 152 and 153.

When Terry Conrad of Ewen scored 66 points against Watermeet in his final regular season game last weekend he registered the highest single game total in the Upper Peninsula since Irwin Scholtz of Hermansville led in 71 against Channing in 1961 to set the all-time U. P. record.

Esky Tops Soo In First Game

Game Saturday
8—Escanaba vs. Marquette

MARQUETTE — Escanaba negotiated the first step toward retaining their Upper Peninsula Class A basketball championship here Wednesday night, pinning a 66-44 setback on the Sault Blue Devils at the Northern Michigan University field-house.

Coach Harold Johnson's Great Northern Conference

champs will take on the dangerous Marquette Redmen for the title Saturday night at 8. The Eskymos dominated action here last night with Paul Miller and Co. outgunning and outscraping their Eastern U.P. opponent.

Escanaba broke for a 16-11 lead in the first quarter and was never headed. The Esky cagers outscored the Blue Devils in every quarter.

Miller plinked six field goals and nine gift tosses for individual scoring honors with 21 points and had balanced assistance from his running mates. Big Dave Nyquist hammered in 16 points, Bob Myrvall tipped in 12 and guard Dan Mylander added 10 to give the Eskymos four starters in double figures. Bernie Larson contributed five points in a solid relief role, spelling Jim Boyle and Nyquist who was nursing an ankle injury.

Escanaba shot at a 40 percent clip from the field, hitting 22 of 55 attempts, and added 22 of 32 from the free throw line.

Soo made 18 of 49 shots from the court for 33 percent and the Blue Devils tossed in 12 of 19 from the charity stripe.

The Eskymos had a 47 to 30 edge in rebounds with Nyquist yanking down 16 and Myrvall a dozen.

The victory gives Escanaba a 16-2 record entering Saturday night's tourney finale against Marquette.

Rock Gets Revenge From Comet Cagers

Wednesday Result
Rock 59, Trenary 58
Game Friday
7—Rapid River vs. Eben
8:30—Perkins vs. Rock

ROCK—Denied the Central League championship by two setbacks to Trenary in the regular season, the Rock Little Giants extracted grim revenge in the Class D district tournament opener here Wednesday night.

Coach Gene DeKeyser's host Rock quipped knocked off the Comets, 59-58, to shatter Trenary's Upper Peninsula and state tournament hopes. The setback was only the second sustained by Trenary in 19 starts.

In regular season competition Trenary had squeezed past the Little Giants, 74-71 and 99-92. It was a different story here last night as Coach Steve Ellis' trailed through the entire game after scoring the opening field goal.

The Little Giants took command with a 16-4 lead in the first quarter, stretched the margin to 36-23 at halftime and made it 53-36 entering the final frame.

Rock added two points to the lead in the first minute of the fourth quarter before the Comets came alive for a stirring comeback that barely fell short.

With senior center Kim Peterson leading the way, Trenary cut its deficit to seven points with 47 seconds remaining. Peterson canned two more field goals to narrow the margin to three points and added another to make it 59-58 with nine seconds left. Rock killed the clock to protect the slim margin.

Deadly shooting by Larry Lippens, slick ball hawking by Jim LaCasse and determined rebounding by Jim Lippens paved the way for Rock's brilliant showing in the first three periods.

Larry Lippens and Peterson hooked up in a torrid scoring duel and the Rock deadeye came out on top, 32 points to 29 for the Upper Peninsula regular season scoring champion. Peterson closed out his senior year with 554 points. Lippens, a 6 foot 1 inch senior, boosted his total to 421.

Rock's margin came from the free throw line where the Little Giants converted seven of 12 opportunities. Trenary made only four of 13. The Comets had an edge of one goal from the field, 27 to 26.

Tournament action continues with semifinal games here Friday night. Rapid River meets Eben at 7 and Perkins takes on Rock at 8:30. Perkins upset the Little Giants, 58-54, in overtime in the final game of the regular season.

Eskey Freshmen Compiled 13-1 Court Record

The Escanaba freshmen basketball team, coached by Ken Peterson, compiled a 13-1 record this season.

The lone setback was a 47-45 loss at Gladstone in the second game of the season and Escanaba reversed the decision in a second meeting, 63-41.

Included in the list of victims were Gwin, Munising, Manistique, Marquette, Kingsford and Holy Name. The Esky juniors outscored their opponents by a huge 959 to 489 margin.

Leading scorers for the season were Bob Gauthier with 159 points, Bob Stacey with 155, Bill Dubord 149, Ted Witt 112, Tom Leonard 71 and Dennis O'Connell 68. Other players who contributed to the scoring total were Gene Timmer, Lynn Collins, Steve Rolig, Bob Thompson, Steve Vanierberg, Brian Larson, Steve Henales, Joe Muehlhaus, Gary Buckley and Ken Peterson.

Leading rebounders were Witt with 109 and O'Connell 108. Dubord pulled down 99, Leonard 80, Stacey 61 and Collins 60.

Rodman Trophy Winners Listed

HERMANSVILLE — In addition to fighting for the team championships in two classes, players participating in the 29th annual Upper Michigan and Northeastern Wisconsin Amateur basketball tournament here March 18-19-21-22-23-25-26 will be seeking the Joe Rodman Memorial Trophy.

Named in honor of the late Joseph Rodman, founder of the tournament in 1936, the trophy will go to the outstanding player of the meet.

Bruce Forstman, who led the Marquette Raish Oil team to the Class A title last year, received the Rodman award. Ken Panzram, a member of the Menominee Joazitis Class B title winning team in 1955, is the only player from a Class B quintet ever to receive the trophy.

Winners of the Joe Rodman trophy in the past included 1947 — Bob Ranguette, Bark River Tom Swifts; 1948 — Thomas Dufour, Escanaba Delta; 1949 — 1950 — Harold Trewhella, Negaunee; 1951 — Don Lewis, Escanaba; 1952 — Bob Ellis, Negaunee; 1953 — Buck Lindsey, Green Bay Bulls; 1954 — Gary Lundin, Houghton; 1955 — Tom Villeneuve, Newberry Knaut Chev's; 1960 — Stan Albeck, Menominee Joazitis; 1961 — Bob Pearce, Marquette Thermo-Fax; 1962 — Wayne Monson, Niagara Badgers; 1963 — Wayne Monson, Oshkosh, Wis.; 1964 — Roy Neveau, Niagara Lanes; 1965 — Duane Soine, Marquette; 1966 — Bruce Forstman, Marquette Raish Oil.

The headline to enter the Hermansville tournament is March 8.

Emeralds Throw Scare Into Newberry Before Losing Tourney Clash

Wednesday Result
Newberry 63, Manistique 58
Game Tonight
8:15 — Holy Name vs. Gladstone

The Manistique Emeralds pilfered a page from Newberry's style book and gave the Indians a mighty scare before bowing 63-58 in Class B district tournament action at the Holy Name gym Wednesday night.

Coach Rudie Brandstrom's Emeralds, down by 18 points at halftime, came out gunning in the third period and canned their first eight shots to cut their deficit in half. They hit on 11 of their first 12 shots in the third quarter surge to get back into contention and then chased the favored Indians to the final wire.

Newberry, carrying an impressive 13-4 record into the tourney, dictated the pattern of the game through the first half. Coach Jim Depew's hard-working hustlers all but blew the Emeralds off the court. They pressed on defense, used a devastating off-and-on fast break on offense, and never stopped running while taking a 16-8 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 35-27 margin at the half.

Guards Mike Perry and Dennis (Red) Robinson, stubby but speedy, directed the first half attack for Newberry. Cool Randy Planck triggered the offense with five field goals in the first two frames. John Nutkins added a pair of buckets and Larry McTiver alternated with Dennis Burgess at the fifth spot for the Indians.

The third quarter opened with Nutkins canning a free throw to spread Newberry's lead to 19 points, 36-17. Then Ole Sholander tossed in a Manistique field goal to open the gates for Brandstrom's cagers. Larry Roberts, a 5 foot 8 inch junior, got into the act with a short jumper from the side. Sholander hit another and Dave Barton drove for a dog. Roberts then hit three straight fielders and Gary Sample hooked one from the base line to make it eight straight for the Emeralds before they missed a shot in the period.

At the close of the 25 point period Manistique had whittled the margin to 52-42 and they pounded in seven straight points to open the fourth quarter, narrowing the deficit to three points — 52-49 — with six minutes to go.

Newberry blew five of six attempts at the free throw line in the next five minutes and Manistique trailed by one point, 57-56, with 37 seconds remaining.

Newberry's Nutkins took a long lead pass for a solo layup to make it 59-56 and added a pair of free throws on a one-and-one situation with 19 seconds left. Manistique still refused to fold and Sample potted a bucket in the waning seconds to make it 61-58.

Nutkins, who scored Newberry's final eight points, added a pair of free throws after the buzzer when he was fouled as the game ended.

Four of the six Newberry players who saw action hit in double figures, led by Nutkins with 17 points. Sample took individual scoring honors for Manistique with 21.

Both teams scored 23 field goals, the Emeralds shooting 41 per cent on 23 of 56 and Newberry 38 per cent on 23 of 60. Newberry made 17 of 28 from the free throw line and Manistique 12 of 19.

Newberry had a slight 38-34 edge in rebounding.

Tourney action continues at 8:15 tonight with Holy Name facing Gladstone. The winner will meet Newberry for the district title Saturday night.

Two-Time Champion Covert Is Eliminated In State Tournament

By The Associated Press

Covert, unbeatable for the last two years in Class D basketball, was buried today with two championship trophies for a headstone.

But it took the likes of 6-foot-5, 220-pound John Marconi of Lawrence High to dethrone the tenacious Bull Dogs.

Covert, which ran up 51 straight victories in winning the Class D crown in 1965 and 1966, fell to Lawrence 89-77 in District play Wednesday night. Lawrence, with Marconi hitting 32 points, piled up a 47-31 halftime lead and Covert never caught up.

Covert wasn't expected to repeat this year, but Trenary, an Upper Peninsula club with a 17-1 record, was slated to be in on the bone-picking.

Rock averaged two regular season losses to Trenary and won 59-58.

Rock led by 17 points after three periods but had to thwart a desperate fourth-quarter rally to win. Trenary outscored Rock 22-4 in the final eight minutes. Larry Lippens led the winners with 32 points and Kim Peterson had 26 for Trenary.

In a couple of Class C overtime thrillers, Bridgman dumped Benton Harbor St. John 84-76 and Merrill nipped Freeland 65-63.

Bridgman's Louie King, who scored 31 points, hit a basket to knot the score at 75-all in regulation time. Bridgman roared away to win in overtime.

Baskets by Mike Miskac and Ron Poyer helped Merrill beat Freeland in a come-from-behind battle. Poyer led the victors with 29 points.

In other Class C games, Wakefield, now 18-0, walloped Bessemer 88-48 as Al Inkala scored 34 points, Charlevoix bumped Petoskey St. Francis 81-35, Brookly beat Napoleon 73-68, Memphis upset Armada 64-48 and Saginaw St. Stephen, now 18-1, beat cross-town rival St. Andrew 67-45.

Class B ball clubs had their share of heart throbs.

Okemos nicked Stockbridge 67-65 as Dick Anti cashed in on a three-point play at the final buzzer. Albion demolished Parma Western 95-55 to boost its record to 18-1, and Grand Rapids East Christian ousted neighboring Northview 81-42 as Bill Rykese scored 20 points.

Three Rivers outlasted Cassopolis 90-73 in a game in which officials called 25 personal fouls. Each team went to the foul line on 31 and Three Rivers on 30. Dan Ryan led Three Rivers with 29 points, including 17 foul shots.

New Aids Ease Welfare Load

The annual report of the Schoolcraft Department of Social Services shows that hospitalization costs, a major problem two years ago, have virtually been eliminated through Medicare and the Medical Assistance program.

In 1964 the department spent $82,231.97 for hospitalization with the local share $19,505.30 after state reimbursement. In 1965, the amount was $130,917.93 with net county cost $38,615.05. Last year it was $77,033.72, but only $4,575.81 was net county cost.

The department ended the year with a balance of $7,137.23 and accounts payable of $125.87. At the beginning of 1965, the department was "in the red" $26,966. County appropriations to the department in 1965 were $53,500, in 1966, $39,000 and in 1967, $34,000.

Direct relief costs in 1966 were $35,317; administration, $10,612 and hospitalization, $77,033. The total $122,963 compares with $145,150 in 1964 and $176,821 in 1965.

The county had an average of 24 relief cases per month in 1966, compared with 53 in 1964 and 26 in 1965.

Surplus commodities valued at $20,956 were issued to an average of 648 persons monthly with the food value per person per month set at $2.69. Cost per person per month was 52 cents, of which the county share was 31 cents.

Hospital applications totaled 113 during the year, with 2409 days care provided at average cost per day of $31.17.

The social welfare fund summary showed a balance of $5260 at year-end. It began the year with a balance of $796. The direct relief fund had a balance of $1751, at year end and began the year with $1.87 balance.

Old age assistance payments totaled $73,581 to an average of 107 cases per month, with average payment of $61.87 monthly.

Aid to disabled totaled $32,145, to an average of 34 cases per month. Average payment is $79.28 per month.

Aid to the blind totaled $5273. There was an average of six cases per month with aid averaging $86.79 a month.

Aid to dependent children came to $82,057. Monthly case-load averaged 49 cases and 209 persons, with average grant per person, $36.48.

Cold, Snow Slow Fishing

Fishing conditions have been poor with extreme cold and loose snow slowing fishermen. Ice is heavy but deep snow has hampered vehicle traffic except snowblows. There is some slush under snow. Fishing in general is only fair, the Conservation Department reports.

Catching big pike from Manistique Lake recently were Otto Sherbrook of Curtis, 10 pounds; Wilford Jacobs, Bay City, 14 1/2 pounds; Watt Stamper, Curtis, 13 pounds and Bob McDonnell, Curtis, 10 pounds.

Pike fishing, which closed Feb. 28 on non-trout streams and lakes was described as fair on Carp and East lakes and Manistique Lake.

There is no closed season for pike on the St. Mary's River and pike may be taken on hook and line on lakes Superior, Huron and Michigan until March 31.

Fair to good catches of perch are reported from Lime Island area of Raber Bay in Potagansing Bay. Some also are taken at Hulbert Lake. Snyder Lake is still producing nice perch. Some also are taken off Epoufette Bay. Fishing for this species has been slow in the Les Cheneaux channels.

Walleye fishing is permitted on inland lakes and non-trout streams until March 15.

Sturgeon spearing season closed Feb. 28 with Indian Lake yielding five of these fish taken by Hugh Fish of Manistique Feb. 23. Sturgeon are not considered common in Upper Peninsula lakes.

Also closing Feb. 28 was the rainbow and brown trout season on special inland lakes.

The department has received a report that Woody Wilcox, a commercial fisherman from Dollar Settlement caught four or five coho salmon in gill nets in eastern Lake Superior recently. A 15 1/2 inch specimen was identified by Edward H. Dorie, conservation officer of Sault Ste. Marie. It is likely these fish were part of those planted at the mouth of the Big Huron River in Baraga County.

A few smelt are still being caught in Grand Sable Lake.

Copper Supply Short Of Need

NEW YORK (AP) — Earlier rosy predictions about balance between copper demand and supply this year are fading as trade sources assess the virtual elimination of the stockpile factor.

George H. Cleaver of the Phelps Dodge Corp. says "Increases in private industry copper will probably not do more than offset the decrease in deliveries from the U. S. government stockpiles."

With depletion of the stockpile not only of copper but also of rubber and nonferrous metals, the trade is beginning to see that they had a modifying influence on the market.

The tin industry's bulletin recently reprinted approvingly a statement from the United Nations commodity survey which said:

"Sales by the U. S. government from its stockpile have been playing an increasingly important part in maintaining a balance between supply and demand in world markets."

Cleaver's comments on copper supply and demand in 1967 was contained in the annual forecast issue of Engineering and Mining Journal. After discussing the stockpile, he added that "If there is a strike in or outside the U. S. or 'African type' restrictions on shipments or output, 1967 supplies may be less than in 1966."

"There will be a considerable increase in free world capacity and, by the end of 1967, this increased annual rate may be greater than the decrease in U. S. government deliveries — but how much of this will show up in actual production we do not know; much of it may not be in until late in the year," Cleaver said.

"If recent interruptions in production and shipments in Zambia are discontinued, a little more will be available — possibly 15,000 to 20,000 tons per month," he added.

Lettuce Growers Lose $15 Million

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP) — There's too much desert lettuce in California. So says the Western Growers Association, bemoaning the worst marketing year in the crop's history, and losses near $15 million.

Shippers in El Centro say they have left nearly five million cartons of marketable lettuce unharvested because of oversupply.

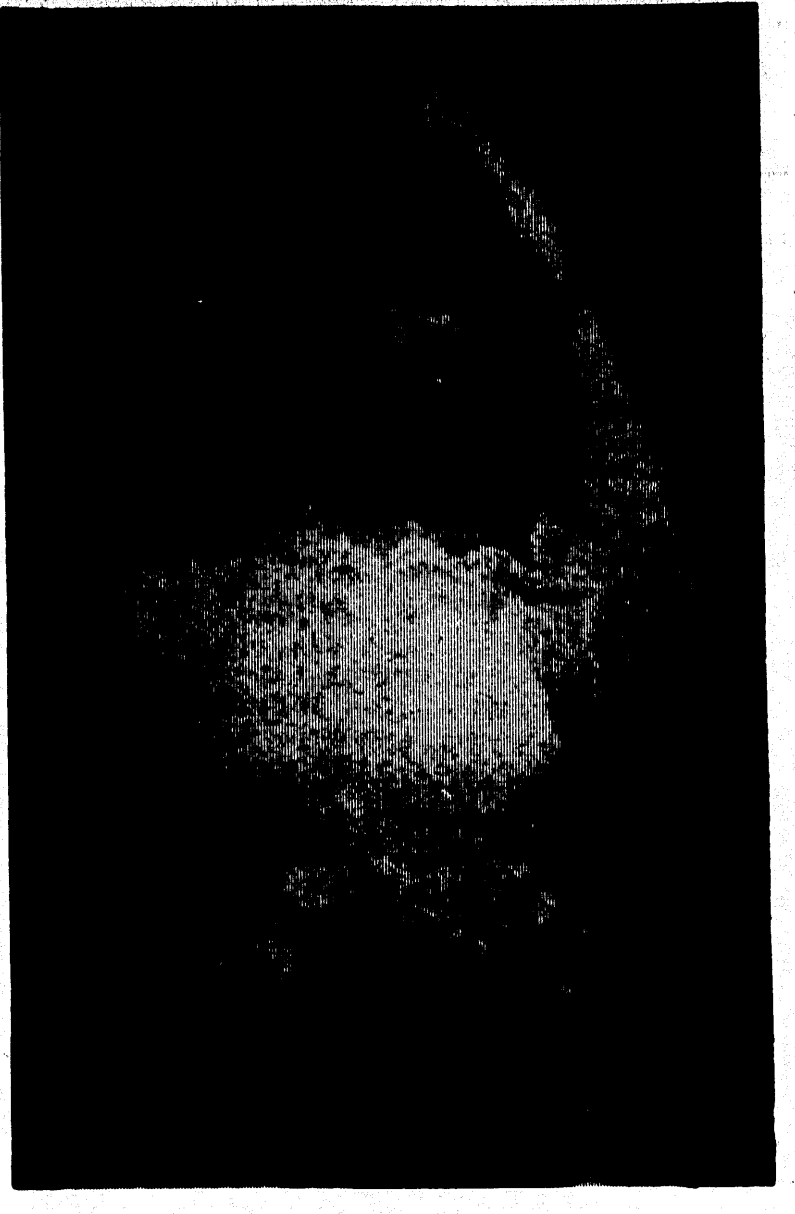

Lettuce prices are about four cents a head. The growers say the price barely covers packing and marketing expenses — with nothing left to cover field costs.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Mayer, 116 N. 3rd St., are the parents of a daughter born Feb. 28 in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds 15 1/2 ounces. Mrs. Mayer is the former Sandra Lee Schneider.

Social

Goodwill Club
The Goodwill Club met Feb. 23 at 1 p.m. for a Pasty Luncheon at the home of Mrs. Michael Kotchen. Awards were won by Mrs. Esie Tornberg, Mrs. Oscar Johnson, and Mrs. Leo Dean. Hostess, Mrs. Michael Kotchen served refreshments.

Sigrid Wood Bride Of William B. Doyle

In a 10 a. m. ceremony Feb. 25 in First Baptist Church, Sigrid Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood, 511 N. Mackinac St., became the bride of William B. Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doyle, Garden. The Rev. Roy Pitts officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Barbara A. Denny, Isabella was maid of honor and Tony Jacques, of Garden was best man. Danny Smith ushered.

The bride wore a floor-length lace and organza long-sleeved gown with lace bodice, French sequins and tiny seed pearls in the front. The full puffed skirt swept to a deep center back pleat. Her fingertip veil of white silk illusion fell from a lace crown with crystals and seed pearls. She carried a white cascade of sweetheart roses and ivy.

The maid of honor wore a floor-length cardinal red velvet with elbow length sleeves, full skirt and natural waist. She carried red sweetheart roses and ivy on a muff of white fur. Her headpiece was a circlet of white fur with veiling.

The bride's mother wore a gold 2-piece knit suit with gold accessories and a corsage of gold mums. The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise blue print dress with matching accessories and also had a corsage of gold mums.

A wedding breakfast was served in the church dining room and a reception was held in the bride's home in the afternoon and evening.

The couple will travel to Pontiac and Chicago and then go to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. where the bridegroom is stationed.

The bride is a graduate of Manistique High School and the bridegroom of Garden High School.

Plan Songfest For Cooks Hall

A Community Gospel Songfest will be held at the Cooks, Michigan town hall on Sunday afternoon, March 5 at 2:30 o'clock. A program of gospel music and singing will be presented featuring stringed instruments. A string group will play several numbers and special numbers will be sung.

Playing in the string group will be Edward N. Berg, James G. Haga, Mrs. Roland Ekstrom, Rev. Gerald Brady and Major Orville Butts. Solos will be sung by Mrs. Ekstrom and Rev. Brady. Berg and Haga will sing several duets and Rev. Lowell Fox, and Carol and Ronnie Fox will sing trio numbers. Mrs. Edward Berg will read the scripture on the theme walking with Jesus.

The public is invited to attend. There is no admission charge and refreshments will be served by friends of the Songfests from Cooks, Garden and Fayette areas.

Songfests have been held in the Delta County area for the past two years and have gained a good following of friends. The songfests are arranged by Berg and Haga.

In Service

Frederick J. LaMuth, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. LaMuth, 709 Garden Ave., Manistique, was promoted to Army specialist fourth class in Qui Nhon, Vietnam, where he is assigned as a production control clerk in the 78th Transportation Company. Spec. LaMuth entered the Army in February, 1966, and was stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky., prior to arriving overseas in September. LaMuth is a 1965 graduate of Manistique High School and was employed by the First National Bank, Manistique, prior to entering the Army.

Briefly Told

Mrs. Ada S. Watson was taken by ambulance to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

School Groups Ask More Aid

LANSING (AP)—The lobbyists—mostly ladies—were most ladylike.

But they were determined in hopes of getting the last and winning word in their crusade for more money for public school education.

"This was not a march or a protest demonstration," explained Mrs. Jane Tate of Detroit, who led nearly 1,000 parents and teachers in an invasion of Lansing Wednesday.

"This is a demonstration of faith that the Legislature will support our demands for more money for education."

"Never before have so many citizens come to Lansing to plead for the cause of public education," said Mrs. Tate, a mother of four children and president of Detroit's Council of the Parent-Teachers Association.

Some 46 education and other group support the cause, Mrs. Tate said. She said some were discouraged from sending delegates, so the crowd would be manageable.

The protesters say Gov. George Romney failed to provide sufficient money for education in his proposed $1.15 billion 1967-68 state budget.

Romney said he could not do better without fiscal reform.

Romney's budget adds $70 million more than last year for public schools but this is mostly to take care of the normal increase in attendance expected. There is no increase in the support per child.

The lobbyists sat quietly in the House and Senate galleries after they finished buttonholing lawmakers. In the House they heard debate on a resolution to cut $44 million from the public education appropriation, among other economies.

An extensive followup was planned by the lobbyists.

Applications Will be taken for Machinists' apprenticeship training. Only high school graduates need apply.

In Memoriam

Wojcik

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Albert Wojcik, who passed away five years ago, February 26th.

Life does not seem the same, since you were called away. The home was hard the shock severe. Our hearts still ache with pain. Our eyes shed many a tear. God only knows how we miss you. At the end of this sad year. Time cannot heal our aching hearts. Nor from our memory tear. The form and face we loved so well. Will dwell forever there. Only those who lost can tell. Of the grief that is born in silence. For the one we loved so well. You are not forgotten father dear. Nor will you ever be. While life and memory last, we will remember them. In our home is a vacant place. And we often speak of you. And how happy we would be, if you were with us too.

Sadly missed by Wife, Children and Grandchildren

Neighborhood Is Backing Grocer Who Shot Negro

DETROIT (AP) — After the shooting, Edward Polonski thought: "I'm finished here."

He had killed a 22-year-old man who had tried to holdup his grocery store with a gun last week.

When he opened his store on Detroit's East Side in 1947, the area was populated by Germans and Italians.

Now it is almost solidly Negro.

And Polonski, a white man, had killed one of them.

"I won't be able to stay in business," he thought.

But it didn't turn out that way.

"The people came in here and they embraced me and they thanked me and they asked me not to sell out," Polonski recalled. "You'd have thought I had saved their lives."

"It was the surprise of my life."

Attended Gun Clinic

Polonski was one of many grocers who were becoming concerned over Detroit's rising crime rate. Some 200 of them, Polonski included, attended a Class the week before last where they were taught how to handle guns.

The gun clinic was sponsored by a Grocers Spotlight, a trade publication that said in a January editorial that if grocers were going to arm themselves, then they ought to be taught how to use their weapons.

Polonski has discovered that concern over crime cuts across racial lines.

At his store the other day, Polonski called a Negro woman over, introduced her to a reporter as Mrs. Beasley, and said he had been retelling how the neighborhood reacted to the shooting.

"Hold Your Head Up High"

"Now didn't we all tell you not to worry yourself?" the woman interrupted. "Don't worry. This neighborhood is behind you. If that man wasn't in here trying to rob, he might have been getting one of us outside."

"Now don't you worry about what you did."

Another woman, also Negro, stopped and said, "That's right you hold your head up high."

When the women had left, Polonski said, "All these people have been here a long time. Most of them are buying their homes."

"It's a neighborhood where they know each other and they talk to each other and they're all as worried about crime as anyone else is."

"My business actually has picked up since that happened," he said, standing behind a meat counter in a tan smock and stained apron. "There has not been one phone call or one bad remark. Nothing."

Scot Barbers Cloth For Fish

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—A Glasgow tailor is doing a roaring trade selling Scottish tweed to the Eskimos of Greenland—and getting paid for it in fish.

"Just the sort of export we like to see," commented a spokesman for the Scottish Council of Development and Industry. "Who says the Scottish businessman isn't export-conscious?"

Every month Norman Taylor gets an order from an Eskimo agent in Iceland. "Send us 100 yards of good cloth and a dozen thick overcoats" is a typical order.

Taylor sends off the goods, gets fish in return, has the fish sold through the usual market channels, and puts the cash in his bank.

"It works very well, really," Taylor says. "The Eskimos in Greenland want good Scottish cloth and this is the easiest way for them to buy it. My suits and coats are proving popular in the Arctic Circle and I've even some customers at the North Pole."

However, not all Eskimos want traditional clothes. Some want mod stuff, Carnaby Street style. One recent order specified "Beatle trousers."

Newberry School Program Praised

Dale Hines, education consultant for the Michigan Department of Mental Health, who recently spent several days at the Children's Unit of Newberry State Hospital evaluating the special education program rates it "Unique."

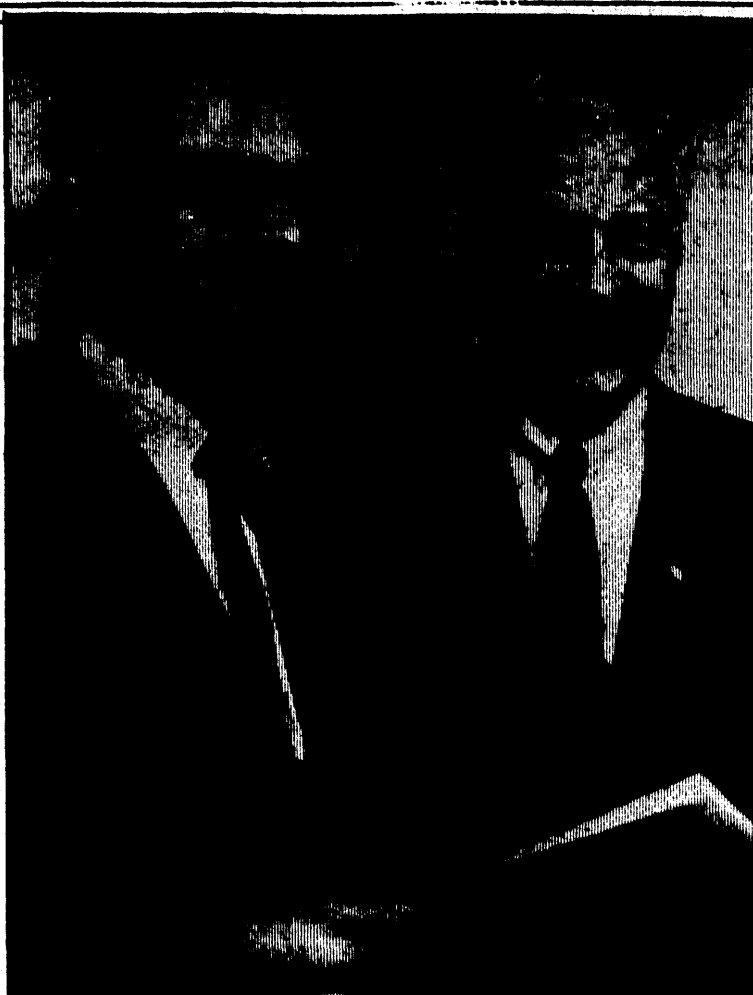

"The faculty of the Children's Unit School are reaching a maximum number of children with a wide variety of well organized programs designed specifically to meet the variety of needs," said Hines.

"Vocational training, frequently lacking in public school programs appears to be progressing in a most satisfactory manner at Newberry Hospital," said Hines.

Pine Grosbeaks Ruin Plantings

When pretty winter finches find slim pickings amongst cold northern evergreens, they flock together to fly south into Michigan's prime Christmas tree regions, much to the chagrin of the yule tree growers.

The finch that causes pine tree plantation owners to flinch is the pine grosbeak, a robin-sized bird with an oversized appetite for pine seeds and buds.

Michigan has won the top spot in the nation in producing plantation grown Christmas trees, mainly through diligent efforts to develop better quality trees. Careful shearing stimulates pine bud growth and results in shapely trees for market. But Michigan's acres upon acres of pine plantings with juicy budded tops offer tempting feasting areas for winter-hungry grosbeaks. Their feeding results in deformed trees and loss of Christmas markets.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture is seeking answers of help to Christmas tree growers in alleviating the grosbeak damage. Through funds made available by the legislature, a federal specialist has been assigned to study this and other Michigan bird and rodent problems.

Pine grosbeaks normally prefer to tough out the winters in the deep forests of the north and seem to make out fine on their diet of evergreen seeds and buds. Since they don't depend upon insects, they feel no strong urge to migrate south in ordinary years. But once every four or five years, mass migrations of pine grosbeaks occur, and often the flocks fly only as far south as the nearest Christmas tree plantation.

One possibility is that pine growers, who have attempted to cover tree tips with plastic bags to prevent the midwinter bird damage, may find that grosbeak migrations can be predicted ahead of time. If so, plantation owners might need to take preventive measures only every four or five years.
